With business leaders of Atlanta
joining forces with state legislators meeting in interest of a state bond issue to construct a county-seat-to-county-seat system of hard-surfaced highways in Georgia, held Tuesday night at the Ansley hotel, ended with all members of the legislature present, except two, signifying their intention to vote for road bonds when bills
come up in the house.

Speaker after speaker, including many of the most prominent men in Atlanta financial circles, and members of the legislature from the smallest and largest counties of the state, spoke in favor of the bond issue, each speaker viewing the subject from his respective local standpoint and each developing some new reason why such a bond issue is the only salvation for Georgia—the only way to lift the state into the nation-wide march of progress by giving it a state system of paved roads within a reasonable time.

Closing the list of speeches, Dean
Snelling, of the University of Georgia, spoke of the vote which is to be taken in the house today on the proposed $23,000,000 state bond issue for education. He told how the program presented in this bill was first drawn up at a meeting of the educational association of the state and how it had been endorsed by all groups of educators.

Partisan Must Go.
The speaker declared that teachers had developed a consciousness of their solidarity as a class, were acting as a unit, and that the "day of the partisan and demagogue who sought to array common schools against the higher institutions of learning" had passed in Georgia.

"The day has come," said Dean Snelling, "when we must no longer withhold from the boy and girl in the country district equal opportunities for education with their sisters and brothers of the cities. Georgia must educate her own people to reap
the benefit of the prosperity coming,
rather than leaving them the uneducated hewers of wood and drawers of water, to live as economic slaves for the enrichment of outsiders."

Opening the speaking program, Colonel William Lawson Peel, told of the need of hard-surfaced highways.

EX-GAMMON SEMINARY
PRESIDENT PASSES

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
New York, March 30.—The Rev.
Dr. Philip M. Watters, member of the New York conference of the Methodist Episcopal church and for the last 11 years president of Gammon Theological seminary, Atlanta, died at the Presbyterian hospital here after an operation at the age of 65.

Dr. Watters had been living in Spartanburg, S. C., recently.
Funeral services will be held Friday from Grace Methodist Episcopal church and interment will be in Sleepy Hollow cemetery in Tarrytown, N. Y.

News of the death in New York of Dr. Watters was received late Tuesday night by Atlanta friends. He was well known here and during his years as head of the Gammon seminary took a leading interest in civic and educational affairs.

at $100 and Accrued Dividend, Declare Officials.

The Coca-Cola company will redeem all its preferred stock June 1
at $100 a share plus accrued dividends, total outstanding shares now in the hands of the public being 46, 312 shares, it was announced Tuesday following a meeting of the executive committee held in Atlanta. At present there are 60,000 shares of preferred stock outstanding, of which the Coca-Cola company recently purchased 14,000 shares. The company has deposited with the Guaranty Trust Company of New York a sum sufficient to pay $100 on each share of stock plus dividends, the by-laws providing that 30 days' notice must be given prior to redemption.

In the announcement the committee declared that the Coca-Cola company itself will purchase, up to May 15, any amount of stock offered it at $100, plus accrued dividends.

The announcement made by the committee is as follows:
"At a meeting of the executive committee of the Coca-Cola company, held this day, a resolution was adopted calling for the redemption of the entire outstanding issue of preferred
stock, notice to be given to stockholders of record as of date March 30, 1926, and the redemption to take place on July 1, 1926, pursuant to the 60-day notice required by the articles of incorporation."

"There remains outstanding 60,000 shares of the preferred stock of the Coca-Cola company. Last year the company redeemed 40,000 shares. Of the 60,000 shares outstanding, the Coca-Cola company itself has purchased approximately 14,000 shares, leaving a balance to be redeemed of 46,312 shares now in the hands of the public."

"The redemption is to take place
by the Coca-Cola company depositing with the Guaranty Trust company of New York an amount sufficient to pay $100 on each share of stock, plus dividend, the by-laws providing that 90 days' notice must be given prior to redemption."

"Redemption of this large amount of preferred stock by the company comes as the result of a policy adopted a year ago when one-half of the preferred stock outstanding at that time was redeemed, according to officials of the company. With the retirement of the present outstanding stock all the preferred stock will have been retired, leaving outstanding 500,000 shares of common stock of the company."

When the Coca-Cola company of Delaware purchased the Coca-Cola holdings from the Candler's Delaware corporation paid $15,000,000 in cash and $10,000,000 in preferred stock.

Since dividends on common stock
are not paid until the preferred stock dividends are disbursed the retirement of the large amount of preferred stock means an enhancement in value of the common stock of the company. Business men in Atlanta, Tuesday looked on the redemption of this stock as a sign of the healthy and prosperous condition of the company.

shaking hands with the hundreds of students who make up daily pilgrimages
to the white house.

It is not disclosed whether the president will adhere to the new order after the present pressure of public business is relieved, but white house attaches who watch him go through the noon-hour ordeal believe he may decide to greet personally
only adults who receive the usual admission card.

AUGUSTA BUSINESS

Quelling Conflagration.
Light System Fails.

Augusta, Ga., March 30.—(AP)—A spectacular fire which broke in the heart of the business district and for a time threatened to sweep the entire section, was brought under control late tonight after fire apparatus had been summoned from adjoining towns. The damage was unofficially estimated at $200,000. The origin of the blaze has not been determined.

The flames were virtually confined to the Bell building where they started shortly after 9:30 o'clock. An adjoining building was damaged slightly by the fire and to a greater extent
by water.

Fire departments from Aiken, S. C., and Waynesboro, Ga., answering a general call for assistance, were of material aid in quelling the flames.

The firemen were hampered in the efforts by a downpour of rain. Later, during the height of the fire, the electric light system on Broad street, the scene of the blaze, failed and the battle was continued in darkness.

For a time the fire department at Macon, Ga., was held in readiness to start here.

Several disastrous fires have occurred in the business district of Augusta during recent years, some of them breaking in the vicinity of tonight's conflagration.

FIRE LOSS AT DOTHAN.

Dothan, Ala., March 30.—(AP)— Fire which started here tonight when lightning struck the Cypress company about 7:30 o'clock, had destroyed
the Central of Georgia railway station and other buildings nearby.
Officials of the cypress company estimate their loss at $500,000.

Fanned by a heavy wind, the flames swept the big plant occupying three city blocks, and attracted hundreds of persons from nearby sections to the scene. The wind carried sparks to nearby buildings in the manufacturing section of the city and firemen are concentrating their efforts
on checking the blazes.

FREEDOM BARRED

Banton Refuses To Free

band's Confession Was Lacking in Truth.

New York, March 30.—(AP)—"Diplomatic relations" between the members of the Whittemore gang and the district attorney were broken tonight.
Mrs. Richard Reese Whittemore, the "tiger girl" of the robber gang led by her husband, will not be freed, because her husband did not make a truthful confession of the gang's activities when he volunteered to talk to save his wife, District Attorney Banton said. He will have "no dealings" with Leon and Jacob Kraemer, Mr.
Banton added, following a conference with them, at which they are said to have agreed to make full confessions provided they were given suspended sentences.

The district attorney said the New York courts would relinquish their claims to Whittemore, so he could be tried either in Buffalo or Baltimore,
where he is wanted on murder charges.
Anthony Paladino, the first of the gangsters to "sneak" and "Baltimore Billy" Unkelbach, who followed his example, testified before the grand jury in Brooklyn today and it was announced that an indictment had been found against an unnamed "fence,"
said to have disposed of $125,000
worth of the band's loot.

Sharp Clashes Mark Fi-

$23,000,000 School Bond
Plan.

Opposition to state bond proposals for education and road building is "grounded in political prejudice," according to Representative Murrah, of Muscookee county, in a speech Tuesday in support of the bill now before the house which provides for submission to the people of a $23,000,000 bond issue for educational needs of the state.

Vote on the educational bond bill will come this morning, a previous agreement having set 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning as the hour for calling the previous question. Representative Barrett, of Stephens,
author of the bill, then will have 20
minutes for the concluding argument,
after which a roll-call vote will be taken.

The bill being a constitutional amendment which must be submitted to the people for ratification before it becomes law, requires an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the house membership, or 138 members. Bond advocates expressed confidence Friday night that this vote would be secured.

There is a heavier attendance than at any time during the session. It is pointed out that in addition to the vote of bond advocates themselves
many members who are personally
in doubt on the issue will vote affirmatively to submit the question to the people. These say they will vote for submitting the issue to the people for settlement when they might hesitate to vote for it if the vote was final.

Tuesday Spent in Debate.
The entire house session Tuesday
was devoted to debate of the school bill.

Representative Tombs DuBose, of Clarke county, a grandson of General
Robert Tombs, of constitutional convention fame, spoke on behalf of the bond issue.

"This state has hundreds of teachers," said Representative DuBose,
"whose education went only to the eighth grade and thousands of children attending school only three or four months a year."

Representative Davis, of Floyd county, pointed out that in addition to the lack of common school facilities in many sections of the state, hundreds of applicants are turned away from institutions of higher learning because of restricted accommodations.

"These facts," said the Floyd representative, "ought to be enough to carry a bond issue in Georgia."

Representative Stovall, of Elbert,
speaking in opposition to the bonds,
declared that the proposed bond issue would be a failure.

La Rochelle, France, March 30.—
"La Mariniere," the last con-

of the civilized world, sailed today
for French Guiana carrying 340 lifers

the first shipload of convicts for this

"La Mariniere" was painted a weird combination of red, yellow, black

from the middle ages, until one derelict under stress of emotion, waving goodbye to his sweetheart across a port, collapsed and died, bringing back
the grim present.

DRY INCENSED
OVER TREASURY
RULING ON BEER

Issue Is Mistake and Will

BEER TO BE BARRED
BY BONE-DRY WEST

Attorney General Sargent Silent on Order.
Sale Probably Will Not Be Permitted in Georgia.

Washington, March 30.—(AP)—
While the nation seemed to get a kick today out of the approval given by the government to sale of 3.75 per cent medicinal beer, about the only reaction the announcement stirred up here was a protest from the Anti-Saloon league, that the issuance of permits for the manufacture of such strong malt tonics was a "mistake"
and would lead to diversions for beverage use.

Officials in charge of prohibition enforcement declined, in the absence
from the city of Assistant Secretary Andrews of the treasury, to say much about the new regulation, except to give assurance that the new "health booster" would be available without prescriptions at drug stores even in bone dry states.

Condemn Beer Order.
Condemning the medicinal beer order, six officials of the Anti-Saloon league, among them F. Scott Mc-Bride, general superintendent, and Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel, joined in a formal statement which said:

"The issuance of permits for the making of malt tonic of 3.75 per cent alcohol content is a mistake and will lead to multiplied evasions of the law and diversions to beverage use. This was the experience of the government before such permits, which were formerly granted, were cancelled. No new evidence has been presented to indicate that this malt tonic will not be used as a substitute for, evading the law."

"The best way to enforce the prohibition law is not to loosen its provisions but to tighten them and carry out the expressed purpose of the act.
Namely, that it shall be construed and enforced so as to prevent the use of beverage intoxicants."

SARGENT IS SILENT ON NEW BEER ORDER.

Washington, March 30.—Attorney General Sargent has refused to comment upon the legality of the new 3.75 per cent malt beer until the matter has been brought to his attention officially.

The treasury said that the 3.75 per cent beverage would make a healthy person ill, but was good for invalids in spoonful doses. As yet Washington has not had an opportunity to sample the beer.

BEER WILL BE BARRED IN BONE-DRY WEST.

Kansas City, Mo., March 30.—(AP)
Druggists and officials of bone-dry states in the west are not sure that the new law will permit the sale of 3.75 per cent medicinal beer.

Whether or not the new beer may be classed as a beverage apparently will determine the attitude of authorities in states having drastic prohibition statutes.

"I am not familiar with this malt tonic but if it contains alcohol and may be classed as a beverage our state law is against it," said Attorney General Dunbar, of Washington.

LEGALITY OF BEER SALE IN GEORGIA IN DOUBT.

Legality of the sale in Georgia of medicinal beer containing 3.75 per cent of alcohol, is open to question.
Assistant Attorney General T. R.
Greene declined to express a definite opinion on the subject, saying he had not studied the question. He declared, however, that it always had been his opinion that the state laws were drastic enough on all prohibition questions to bar the sale of any beverage containing alcohol, no matter what the content nor how labeled. Attorney General George M. Napier was in Washington Tuesday, attending the ceremony of unveiling the statue to Dr. Crawford W. Long in the national hall of fame and could not be reached for an opinion.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.

Washington, March 30.—Debate on the impeachment charges against Federal Judge George W. English began in the house with a frequent quotation of vile and profane words alleged to have been used by the judge that Speaker Longworth was obliged to interfere to protect the galleries which were filled with hundreds of school children on Easter vacation.

After the profane and vile language
had been quoted several times in debate, Speaker Longworth requested that members avoid repeating it as much as possible and announced that when it was necessary to use the exact words hereafter the galleries would be cleared. He also ordered the offensive words stricken from the Congressional Record.

Vote on Five Articles.
Debate will run at least one more
day and then the house will proceed to vote on each of the five articles of impeachment recommended by the judiciary committee after a year's investigation of the judge's conduct.

Early debate brought out that Judge English is not charged with any crime.

"The question here is whether he has violated public morality," Representative Sumners, of Texas, said in the opening speech favoring impeachment. "It is not necessary to establish any indictable offense to impeach."

Sumners denounced Judge English's treatment of Attorney Charles A.
Karl, who was disbarred and ordered by the court "to get out of here"
and called a vile name, according to the testimony before the house committee.

CALVIN COOLIDGE
AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, March 30.—(Special)
Mrs. W. H. Felton, of Cartersville, called on President Coolidge at the white house Tuesday, accompanied by Senator George.

She chatted with the president for several minutes, recalling her previous visit to President Harding on the occasion of her appointment for one day
by Governor Hardwick as United States senator.

Afterward she paid another visit to the senate, and sat for a long time in the chamber, talking with various members. She was one of the speakers at the unveiling of the statue of Dr.
Crawford W. Long, of Georgia, in statuary hall at the capitol.

Washington, March 30.—(Special.)
Georgia has given to the nation for keeping the memory of her kindly country physician who brought to the world an inestimable boon—surgeons from human pain and suffering.

Tribute upon tribute was bestowed upon Dr. Crawford Long, who first used ether as an anesthetic in surgical operations as his statue was unveiled Tuesday in the hall of American immortals in the national capitol,
the only physician to receive this high honor.

Scientists paid him honor; members of the medical profession lauded him;
officials extolled him—and one who knew him in his lifetime, who worked beside him and loved him as man and teacher, told feelingly of him as a friend, the highest tribute that could be paid.

Dr. Jacobs' Tribute.
"It is with pride that I testify here
to his greatness in all the walks of life," said Dr. Joseph Jacobs, of Atlanta, who served his apprenticeship under Dr. Long in a little drug store in Athens many, many years ago. It was Dr. Jacobs who was the moving spirit in the campaign to raise funds for placing the statue of Dr. Long in statuary hall.

As speaker after speaker addressed the crowd which packed the hall of notables at the capitol, with the marble figures of famous states and warriors from every part of the country in the background, there was recreated again that incident in the life of Dr. Long which has given him a place in this distinguished company.

Those who stood there heard how he performed an operation, without pain, upon his friend, James Venable, in his office in Jefferson, Ga., just 84 years ago, March 30, 1842. On Tuesday, attendance figures fol-

JONES IS ELECTED HEAD OF ATLANTA COOPERATIVE CLUB

Winfield P. Jones, Atlanta attorney, Tuesday was elected president of the Atlanta Cooperative club to succeed Dr. Arch Ekin. The meeting was held at the Ansley hotel.

RINSE WITH LEMON TO GET HAIR CLEAN

When you wash your hair a curd left from the soap stays on it, and rinsing with plain water won't remove it.

As long as that curd is there the hair can't be really clean. It can't show its natural gloss and sheen. Can't keep its curl.

But rinse with an ordinary wash-bowl full of water into which you've squeezed the juice of two California lemons, and follow by plain water rinse.

The lemon juice removes the curd. Your hair is clean, soft, lustrous. The color is enhanced. The curl stays in.

Keep a dozen lemons always handy for this rinse. Ask for California lemons, rich in acid juice, the juice that gets the soap-curd from the hair. Fresh the year 'round at any store. —(adv.)

The Atlanta Cooperative club to succeed Dr. Arch Ekin. The meeting was held at the Ansley hotel. Other officers who were elected are Oscar J. Coe, first vice president; Al Bailey, second vice president; Frank Maloney, third vice president; Dr. W. A. Garrett, treasurer; George O. Jones, secretary; L. R. Hunter, business manager of The Cooperative, the club's weekly publication, and A. V. B. Gilbert, sergeant at arms.

ALLEGED AMNESIA VICTIM INDICTED BY FEDERAL JURY

John White, who several months ago was alleged to have faked a loss of memory here, was indicted today by a federal grand jury in a joint bill with Thomas Jefferson Hodges, another youth, on charges of violating the national motor vehicle theft act.

The two youths were charged with transporting a stolen automobile from Coconut Grove, Fla., to Campbell county, Georgia.

Department of justice agents said an indictment charging second degree grand larceny and accompanied by a warrant had been received here from Riverhead, L. I., New York.

The indictment, returned by the Suffolk county grand jury, charged White with unlawful disposal of certain property with which he had been entrusted.

Both White and Hodges are being held in jail here.

MONTGOMERY NAMED TO EQUITABLE POST

Wallace M. Montgomery, prominent young Atlantan, has been named representative in the southeast, of

WALLACE M. MONTGOMERY.

the Equitable Trust company, of New York. From central offices in Atlanta he will serve a territory including states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama and South Carolina.

With this addition to its staff, the Equitable rounds out its facilities for handling southern business, already afforded by the company's Baltimore office and Special Southern Representative Gafford, it is said.

Mr. Montgomery is well equipped to manage this office, having served at one time as assistant credit manager and later as special new business representative of the Citizens & Southern bank. He has acquired first-hand knowledge of business conditions and a keen understanding of banking needs in this territory.

The Atlanta office, working in close touch with the main office in New York, will provide southern banking and business houses a rapid and efficient means of transacting New York and foreign business, it is pointed out.

Exams for Children In Grammar Schools Will Begin April 27

The summer round-up work in the grammar schools of Atlanta will begin April 27 and continue through that week. There will be registration and examination in each school. Doctors and nurses will be present to examine all children who have not been examined. Mothers wishing to have children examined by their family physician may do so provided they bring, on registration day, a certificate from such physician stating the exact condition of the child. The registration day of each school will be announced later.

RUBIN AND CHERRY WILL STAGE RODEO

Atlanta is to know all the thrills of a genuine "frontier rodeo," starting with an opening performance Saturday afternoon, and with two performances daily all next week.

Colonel Jim Eskew, noted scout and plainsman, protégé of the late Buffalo Bill, is bringing his contingent of cowboys and cowgirls, Mexican vaqueros, trick and fancy riders, a herd of buffalo, long-horned Texas steers, and the authentic old Deadwood stage coach direct from the famous "J. E. Ranch" at Silver City, New Mexico, here as one of the many attractions on the midway of Rubin & Cherry shows, for the benefit of the Maccafee industrial fund, on the Highland avenue circus grounds. Not since the days when Buffalo Bill traveled all over the world has such a stellar aggregation of survivors of the golden days of the far west been assembled for exhibition purposes.

Colonel Eskew directs the performance and among those who participate are Miss Dolly Eskew, champion lady trick and fancy rider; Mexican Joe, bucking horse rider; Elmer Lyons, winner of several stirring contests at Calgary and Pendleton round-ups; "Cherokee Bill," steer bulldozer; "Oklahoma Charlie," another prize winner; "Wild Bill" Hawkins, and many others.

Atlantans Urged To Support Chest Fight in Council

An appeal has been made to Atlantans to support Community Chest leaders in an effort to obtain passage of the ordinance now pending in council for an appropriation of $49,000 to 16 of the welfare agencies in the Community chest. The appeal is signed by heads of all welfare agencies in the chest.

The ordinance will be discussed at a public hearing at 11 o'clock Friday morning at a meeting of the finance committee.

It is declared in the statement issued by the department heads of the welfare associations that the chest's work in Atlanta has been greatly crippled with the loss of support of the city in the work.

Text of Statement.

The statement reads, in part, as follows: "Representing as we do the 34 agencies in the chest and speaking for the more than 500 citizens composing the governing boards of these agencies, the responsibility of carrying on the major portion of the social service program in Atlanta is directly upon us. But after all we are directing this work for the welfare of Atlanta, and we feel that every citizen should share with us the knowledge that failure of council to make this appropriation will not only affect the 34 agencies mentioned in the ordinance, but will be disastrous to every social agency in Atlanta. The loss of $50,000 from budgets already cut below the minimum for effective operation would so cripple and handicap our work that the efficiency of our service would be reduced immeasurably.

"The effect of the recent court decision was to restrain the city of Atlanta from making payment to the Community Chest of the $50,000 included in the 1925 finance sheet. Judge Humphries expressed the opinion, and it is concurred in by the best lawyers in Atlanta, that the city is strictly within its rights and has complete legal authority to appropriate directly to strictly charitable and nonsectarian organizations.

"The money was pledged by the city in all good faith. The agencies decided on January 1 to try to pull through this year on the meager funds available, depending upon the city for the support which had been promised. Failure to make good this pledge at this time, with one-fourth of the year already passed, is to us unthinkable. Its result is suffering, in causing crime and delinquency, in depriving helpless children of protection and the essentials of life should be taken into consideration.

"Fifty thousand dollars seems a small sum, but when subtracted from our agencies, means almost total disorganization, confusion, dissipation of effort and will cut efficiency in half. We believe that the members of city council, having once made this appropriation, will do so again. They are only asked to confirm their previous action, removing the illegal features which have been attacked on technicalities, and not upon opposition to our work."

NEGRO GETS LONG TERM IN PRISON

Fred Grant, negro, jointly indicted by a Fulton county grand jury with Johnnie Milledge, negro, on two counts charging larceny, was found guilty Tuesday before Judge G. H. Howard in Fulton superior court and was sentenced to serve from four to five years on each indictment, one sentence to follow the other.

Dr. Jones Lauded In His 'Farewell' At Rotary Club

In a farewell address Tuesday before fellow members of the Atlanta Rotary club, Dr. M. Ashby Jones, recently pastor of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church, made a plea for "tolerance and broad-mindedness in religion, political and civil life," and urged Rotarians to continue their efforts for these principles.

Dr. Jones gave Rotarians an affectionate farewell and reviewed the achievements of the club during the time he has been affiliated with it. He will go to St. Louis where he will take up his new duties next Sunday as pastor of the Second Baptist church of that city.

In presenting Dr. Jones to the Rotarians Rev. James A. Horton, pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic church, praised his record for services while in Atlanta.

"Ashby Jones leaves Atlanta next Friday and it will be a great day for St. Louis," he said. "During the time he has lived in Atlanta he has given an example of the true Rotary spirit which is unsurpassed. His life here has been one of unselfish service. He has stood forth here as a fearless and consistent preacher of tolerance, good will and understanding among mankind."

Student Engineers At Tech Hear Lecture By Noted Authority

Professor W. H. Cavanaugh, head of the experimental engineering department of the University of Pennsylvania, delivered an address Tuesday at a regular weekly meeting of the Georgia Tech student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers at Georgia Tech.

Professor Cavanaugh is in Atlanta in connection with a tour under auspices of the society's headquarters in New York. This tour is slated to take him before practically every student branch of the A. S. M. E. throughout the country.

In his lecture, Professor Cavanaugh strongly emphasized the importance of state legislation to compel all steam power plants to use only such boilers as will pass requirements of the A. S. M. E. boiler code. Such legislation, he claimed, would do much to prevent disastrous boiler explosions.

Professor Cavanaugh was entertained by Professor R. S. King, head

ORATORS IN CONTEST GIVEN TIME LIMIT

The rule limiting contestants in the international oratorical contests to 10 minutes will be strictly enforced, both in the district contests, the state finals in Atlanta on May 7, the zone finals at Kansas City on May 14 and the national finals at Washington.

The national director of the contest in writing about this rule recently said that the average contestant can deliver approximately 1,100 words in the ten minutes allotted. The national champion in 1925, said the director, delivered a speech of 1,114 words in 9 minutes and 48 seconds.

"It is important," the director advised, "that contestants allow a margin of about 30 seconds, so as to feel absolutely safe on that score and not destroy the effect of their speech by hastening."

The contest is sponsored in Georgia by The Constitution, which offers $15 prizes in each of the 12 district contests, and first and second prizes of $100 and $50 in the state finals. The state champion will compete for the zone championship at Kansas City on May 14. The winner of this contest will be one of the seven national finalists each of whom will be given a free tour of Europe this summer.

High school boys and girls only are eligible to compete.

Revival Services At Morningside To End Tonight

Revival services which have been in progress at the Morningside Presbyterian church the past 10 days will come to a close tonight. The Rev. A. W. Dick's sermons have drawn large crowds to each service and much interest has been manifested. The pastor, Rev. Carl W. McMurray, especially invites everyone in the Morningside section to the service, which will be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight.

Another well-attended meeting at the Central Presbyterian church Monday night was: "If Thou Dost Not Well, Sin Lieth at the Door." Gen. 4:7. The sermon ended with a strong plea for those who do not know Christ to give up whatever keeps them away from Him.

EXPRESSMEN LOSE WAGE HIKE MOVE

Efforts to obtain a wage increase for employees of the Southeastern Express company failed at a conference Tuesday of W. F. Terrell, general manager of the Southeastern Express company, and high officials of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees.

An increase of 12 cents an hour, with adjustments for certain employees to conform with scales alleged to be paid elsewhere, was asked by the brotherhood, officials stated after the meeting. Mr. Terrell declined to comment on the meeting Tuesday night.

The brotherhood was represented by E. H. Fitzgerald, of Cincinnati, grand president; E. V. Badley, of Chicago, vice grand president; S. Q. Bowden, of Mobile, Ala., general chairman; E. E. Baker, general secretary and treasurer, of Atlanta.

Although the conference failed to bring results, Mr. Fitzgerald said after the meeting that negotiations would be carried on and, if necessary, would be taken to the United States railroad labor board.

He expressed confidence that the wage increase would be obtained, but at present officials of the express company feel that no increase should be granted. Approximately 2,000 employees would be affected by the proposed increase, he said.

"The brotherhood has had a contract with the Southeastern company since the existence of the company and at all times relations have been harmonious and the present situation should arouse no undue commotion. The contract still is in existence and both parties have fully carried out their contracts."

"Although my visit to Atlanta is primarily due to this conference, I also met with the brotherhood committee on an outlay movement on the part of some clerks in this vicinity. This matter has been cleared up, however, as offending members were expelled from the organization."

Both Mr. Fitzgerald and Mr. Badley expressed surprise at the growth Atlanta has shown within recent months and predicted for the entire section progress and prosperity.

PREJUDICE CHARGED TO BOND ENEMIES

Appeal For Passage. Representative Erwin, of Clarke, pointed out that by passage of the inheritance tax bill this session of the legislature already has increased the state revenue almost $1,000,000 annually without cost to the taxpayers, and that passage of the proposed classification tax bill will add at least another million in revenue.

Representative Erwin criticized former Governor John M. Slaton for his remarks on the school bond proposal made before a house committee. The outstanding accomplishment of Governor Slaton's administration, said Mr. Erwin, "was the passage of the iniquitous tax equalization law."

Representative Daniel, of Troup, charged that state schools of Georgia are dominated by the "school book trust," and declared that the "book trust" spent $50,000 last summer to defeat the McCrory free school book bill.

Representative Lankford, of Toombs, charged that common schools of the state were not receiving the $5,000,000 appropriation made for them, and said they got only $3,000,000, after various special funds had been taken out.

Representative Murrah, of Muscogee, stated that he had been against bonds but had changed his mind, seeing in them the "only sensible way of providing proper school facilities."

Charging that the great majority of opponents to bonds are animated solely by political prejudice, Mr. Murrah said "if the brains of some of these critics were put in the chief executive's head, they would rattle like bird-shot in a gallon coffee pot."

Sharp Differences. Representative Flynn, of Spalding, said in reply that members of the house who opposed bonds had as much right to the use of the brains God gave them as Mr. Murrah's little friend, the governor.

The educational bond bill which will be voted on this morning provides $4,000,000 to provide prompt payment for school teachers, ending the present unsatisfactory school warrant system; $7,000,000 for state aid in building and equipping consolidated schools in the rural districts; $11,000,000 for necessary enlargements and repairs at the state sanitarium at Milledgeville.

Representative Rivers, of Lanier, has offered a substitute providing that bonds shall not be issued until some method of retiring them without increasing ad valorem taxes is worked out, and appropriating $9,000,000 to the university, and $9,000,000 for consolidated schools, instead of $11,000,000 and $7,000,000 as in the original bill.

The senate Tuesday morning passed the first time since Friday, passed a bill, already passed by the house, providing for issuance of non-par stock by corporations in Georgia. It also passed a senate bill amending in minor particulars some features of the state "blue sky law."

Senate Meets Today. Today the senate will take up the bill amending the state inheritance tax law, already passed by the house, which increases the rate from 10 to 15 per cent of the federal estate tax, thus allowing the state to collect over $500,000 in additional revenue annually without any additional burden to the taxpayers. This is possible through the new federal estate tax law which allows states to retain 80 per cent of the amounts collected.

Several house committees met Tuesday afternoon and passed upon a number of bills of minor importance.

A measure changing the method of electing trustees for the Gordon Military Institute at Harnesville was unanimously approved by the committee on education when the representative from that county said he was opposed to it. The measure was sponsored by Senator Collier, of that district, who was not present at the meeting.

Another bill introduced by Senator Collier in the senate was unanimously approved by the house committee on counties and counties, on the grounds that it did not come within the scope of the governor's call. It provided for the county manager form of government for Lamar county. It was pointed out that the bill was unconstitutional anyway inasmuch as there is already a general law providing how counties which desire this change in government may secure it.

A bill to make the Atlanta police pension laws retroactive, introduced by Representative Hooper, of Fulton, was approved by the committee on municipal government on the ground that it was not admissible under the governor's call.

Before opening the debate on school bonds Tuesday morning the house passed a bill by the Charleston delegation authorizing the mayor and city council of Savannah to change a street and another bill to authorize paving for the city of Moultrie in Colquitt county.

Among other speakers on the school bond bill were Representatives McClure, of Walker; Rivers, of Lanier; Mann, of Glynn; Hopkins, of Thomas; Harris, of Jefferson; Hamby, of Rabun; and Miller, of Muscogee, in support of the measure. Opposing speakers included Welch, of Colquitt; Maddox, of Gwinnett; McCluney, of Baldwin; and Griffin, of Decatur.

Montezuma, Ga., March 30.—(Special)—The March term of city court convened in Oglethorpe Monday. There is a heavy docket, of both civil and criminal cases.

NATION PAYS HONOR TO NOTED GEORGIAN

Dr. Long from his association with him. "As a pharmacist who had the great good fortune to spend a number of his boyhood days as an apprentice and student in the drug store at Athens, Ga., owned and operated by a man who, we commemorate as one who knew him in his prime of life and professional activity; as a recipient of numberless favors from him that were almost paternal, it is with pride that I testify here to his greatness in all the walks of life," he said.

"The skilled and gentle ministrations of the learned physician were his; the tender love for family and friends he ever exhibited in acts of kindness; the poor and distressed found in him ever a ready and helpful sympathy; his city and state knew him as patriotic and brave and wise."

"All humanity will accord him memory and gratitude as the man who guided the way to banish human pain in the most terrible and awful manner; the surgeon's knife."

Judge Russell Speaks. After recalling the triumphs of other Georgians in the realms of science, of literature, of law and of arms, Judge Russell delivered an eloquent eulogy to the memory of Dr. Long, describing him as "the unrecognized monarch of medicine."

"The service of him to whom we consecrate this day is a service to the world," Judge Russell said. "Under whatever skies pain and suffering may be found, from the arctic to the antarctic zone, from the barren steppes of Siberia or the frozen fields of Labrador to where the wild winds of the south sweep the inhospitable shores of Tierra del Fuego, the discovery of Long came as a panacea to soothe human sufferings and woe. No calculation can be made which can compute the value of the services this man gave to humanity."

"In this, our nation's holiest shrine, pious hands and loving hearts from each sovereign state offer the fragrant sacrifice of storing yet sweet devotion. The mother instinct of each community has chosen from her sons the chiefest in service and the kings in the kingdom of minds. Here place we his name and stature in our behalf gives bond in stone to guard him and immortalize the trust."

Tribute by Napier. Attorney General Napier, who represented Governor Walker, said that "if service to humanity be a crown of distinction, the name of this modest, tender-hearted surgeon, like the name of Abou Ben Adhem of old, leads all the rest."

Reviewing the service to humanity rendered by the Georgia physician, Colonel Napier said: "This statue will be a faithful memorial to the country doctor—that professional who for ages in thousands of modest communities has proved their most unselfish servant; content with small means, dispensing cheer and comfort, inspiring hope, affording relief, restoring health—an exemplar of the Great Physician, who on the Judean hills went about doing good."

"The state of Georgia," he said, "is pleased to accept this beautifully graven memorial, the glory of which is unimpaired by the chapter on the brow of any other figure in the minister of imperishable fame. And she is proud and happy at being the mother of the discoverer of ether anesthesia; and throughout the world the fame of this son will forever reflect distinction upon his native state and upon the nation at large, which gave him his immortal service to his fellowmen."

Colonel Napier then committed the statue to Senator Harris, of Georgia, as representative of the government.

Senator Harris was the next speaker to pay tribute to the memory of Dr. Long.

"The fundamental aims of the physician are the prolongation of life and the alleviation of human suffering," he said. "The use of an anesthetic for the purpose of relieving pain, both of these aims in large measure, and its now general use is responsible for a large part of the 12 years added recently to the average human life. This being true, it follows that the discovery of ether was one of the greatest human services ever rendered to mankind, and this by a young country doctor of Georgia."

"I am especially proud to accept in the name of the United States government the statue to a Georgian whose humanitarianism has revolutionized the practice of surgery and been of untold benefit to the millions of earth's inhabitants."

Upholds Dr. Long's Claims. Dr. Hugh H. Young, noted doctor of Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, presented data to show that the discovery of ether was the first to be used as an anesthetic. He said he had assumed for many years that Dr. W. T. G. Morton of Boston had been the first, but upon investigation he was convinced that Dr. Long had made his discovery before either Dr. Morton or Dr. Charles T. Jackson, the claimants.

"Without the gift of anaesthesia there would be no modern medicine, as we are behold to the wonderful accomplishments of modern medicine and surgery with complacency, what a thought would ensue were we to revert again to the days of the great discoverer whose memory we celebrate today in the unveiling of this splendid statue of Crawford Williamson Long."

"It is a great privilege," he said, "to speak for the medical profession and to honor the memory of the statue of one who was the first to conceive and carry out the greatest boon to suffering humanity."

PULSIFER PRAISES SCHOOLS OF SOUTH

William Edmond Pulsifer, president of D. C. Heath & Company, nationally known textbook publishers, and his wife, have arrived in Atlanta and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley R. Cowles. Mr. Pulsifer spent several weeks in Summerville, S. C., and is now making a tour of this section in the interest of his organization.

Mr. Pulsifer joined the company which he now heads in 1889 and is one of the best known textbook publishers in the country. Among the several thousand books which his firm publishes, the works of more than 60 southern writers are included. On the subject of the constantly growing interest in educational work in this part of the country, Mr. Pulsifer said in part:

"The south, one of the most beautiful sections of our country, is coming to be one of the most important from a commercial point of view," he said. "It is gaining strength fast as a financial and industrial territory, and, agriculturally, it is now leading most other sections of the country. It is rapidly increasing in school population and in the means of housing it. Many of our most progressive educators are in charge of educational work in the south, which now ranks as high as that done in other sections of the country."

"Educational progress has been more marked during the last quarter of a century in the southern states than in any other section of the union. The south can be depended upon to buy the most meritorious and up-to-date textbooks. In most cases poor books are frowned upon. All this, if true, teaches us some valuable lessons. The first is that the southern market for textbooks is worth cultivating, for it is both responsive and profitable. The second lesson it teaches us is that good southern textbook writers should be sought and induced to prepare manuscripts for us. The third lesson it teaches us is that the south is sound financially and is growing in school population."

FINAL RITES TODAY FOR DR. JARNAGIN

Funeral services for Dr. W. C. Jarnagin, 74, of 682 West Peachtree street, prominent Atlanta physician and head of the Atlanta hospital for the past 19 years, who died Monday night after an extended illness, will be held at 11 o'clock this morning at the home. Dr. M. Ashby Jones will officiate and interment will be in West View cemetery with J. Austin Dillon company in charge.

The following prominent Atlanta physicians will compose an honorary escort: Dr. J. L. Campbell, Dr. W. E. Campbell, Dr. L. M. Crichton, Dr. M. Curtis, Dr. E. C. Davis, Dr. W. S. Elkin, Dr. James N. Ellis, Dr. J. G. Earnest, Dr. C. G. Giddings, Dr. W. L. Gilbert, Dr. C. E. Hall, Dr. William F. Nielson, Sr., Dr. George M. Niles, Dr. George H. Noble, Sr., Dr. C. M. Paine, Dr. S. R. Roberts, Dr. Dr. Dunbar Roy, Dr. E. C. Thrash, Dr. J. C. White, Dr. Willis S. Westmoreland, Dr. Frank T. Eskridge.

Dr. Jarnagin had been prominent in medical circles in Atlanta for more than 40 years and for more than 30 years was associated with Dr. Thomas H. Hancock, who with him organized the Atlanta hospital. At the time of his death he was president of the board of directors of the Atlanta hospital and active in its interests.

He was descended from a prominent family of East Tennessee and was widely connected throughout the south. Dr. Jarnagin was for 30 years official surgeon of the Georgia Railway & Power company and at the expiration of his service, was given a medal for faithful and efficient service.

He was married to Miss Sallie Dupree. After her death he was married to Miss Erskine Richmond. In addition to his widow he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Sam W. Forgy, Jr., of Miami Beach, Fla.

NEW COMMANDER OF FT. M'PHERSON TO ARRIVE TODAY

Brigadier General and Mrs. Joseph D. Mitchell are due to arrive at Fort McPherson today and will be welcomed at a reception, to be held at 9 o'clock tonight, at which a farewell will be tendered the departing brigadier general and Mrs. Leroy Eltinge, who will be succeeded in command at the fort by General Leitch.

The reception will be held at the Service club and the hall will be decorated with peach blossoms and flags for the occasion. Members of the officers' club and their guests, as well as other attaches of the fort will attend in military dress. The two chief officers and their wives, Colonel and Mrs. George F. Bartzell and Lieutenant and Mrs. Dennis M. Moore, will be in the receiving line.

Chevrolet Officials Arrive in Atlanta For Annual Conferences With Dealers

High Chevrolet company officials arrive for regional zone conferences here, including: Upper row, left to right, J. P. Little, manager parts and service division; Sidney Corbett, manager fleet sales and truck division; William A. Bles, manager certificate sales division; lower row, left to right, R. K. White, sales promotion manager; R. H. Grant, vice president and general sales manager; C. E. Dawson, assistant general sales manager. At lower right is shown W. G. Lewellen, assistant sales promotion manager. These officials will be in conferences today with Chevrolet dealers from more than 250 cities in the Atlanta zone.

With the arrival in Atlanta Tuesday night of R. H. Grant, vice president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor company, and several members of his executive staff, final plans were completed for the annual southern regional sales conference of more than 500 Chevrolet dealers and prominent bankers representing 236 cities in Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee, which begins this morning.

Hundreds of Chevrolet dealers crowded the lobby of the Biltmore hotel, headquarters of the convention, Tuesday night, and were enthusiastic over past accomplishments and future prospects. The conference will be conducted by the executive staff from the central office of the Chevrolet Motor company, at Detroit, under the direction of Mr. Grant. Other outstanding leaders in the Chevrolet industry who will assist in the convention include C. R. Dawson, assistant general sales manager; R. K. White, sales promotion manager; William A. Bles, six per cent certificate sales manager; W. G. Lewellen, assistant sales promotion manager; Sidney Corbett, sales manager of fleet sales and truck division; J. P. Little, manager of parts and service division; J. E. Grimm, Jr., advertising manager; M. D. Douglas, regional zone sales manager; C. L. Sudman, C. H. Sudman and E. H. Shippel, of sales promotion department and others.

Twenty-eight zones. The United States has been divided into 28 regional zones by the Chevrolet company. The executive staff is continually traveling throughout these states and conducting conventions and conferences. Members of this body began the present campaign following the annual New York automobile show in New York in January. Since that date conventions have been held in the following cities: New York, Boston, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Des Moines, Minneapolis, Spokane, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Francisco, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Denver, Kansas City, Omaha, Neb., St. Louis, Mo., Oakland City, Okla., Dallas, Tex., and Memphis, Tenn.

The business session of the convention will be held at the Atlanta theater beginning promptly at 10:30 o'clock this afternoon. Features will be talks by the various department heads and will include themes on selling policies of the company, used car attractions, easy selling by certificate plan, mechanical improvements of the car, selling policies of trucks, progress made with service stations and service schools, advertising, and other topics of interest to dealers and bankers of the territory.

In addition to addresses of members of the staff, moving picture illustrations will give "pointers" on selling points and other helps. During the morning brief conferences will be held between dealers and the different department heads at which time dealers will present their problems and receive instructions.

Big Banquet Tonight. An elaborate banquet has been planned for the night session at which time Mr. Grant will deliver the principal address and Mr. Dawson will act as toastmaster. An entertaining program has been arranged to consist of dancing and musical numbers. Novelties, favors and decorations for the event are being furnished by C. H. Sudman, E. A. Shippel and C. L. Sudman, who have charge of all banquets on the tour of the executive staff. No stone has been left unturned to make the convention one of the outstanding events in southern automotive history, leaders stated Tuesday night.

The banquet will mark the close of the convention. However, members of the executive staff will remain in Atlanta practically all day Thursday and will hold conferences with dealers. L. S. Castley, Atlanta zone manager, will act as host to the convention.

Among other officials of the Chevrolet company who will be present are: H. K. Klingler, assistant sales manager; E. W. Fuhr, of St. Louis, and

W. G. LEWELLEN.

R. D. Wilson, zone manager from Jacksonville.

Following the Atlanta convention the executive staff will go to Jacksonville, Fla., for a one-day convention. Mr. Wilson will escort the body to that city where extensive preparations have been made for their coming.

DEAN JOHNSTON SPEAKS AT LIONS' CLUB MEETING

The Very Rev. Thomas H. Johnston, dean of the Episcopal diocese, was the principal speaker at Tuesday's luncheon meeting of the Lions' club, held at the Ansley hotel. The subject of his address was "The Easter Season and Its Influence."

The meeting was marked by a record attendance. Several new members were initiated, among these being Channing Cope and L. R. Denny. The attendance prize was annexed by Frank Allee, while B. C. Friberg won the guest prize.

Vocal selections were rendered by the Troubadour quartet. Miss Flora Campbell danced the Charleston and Rev. Sprong was at the piano.

AUTO, CIGAR DEALERS ARE DUE TAX REFUNDS

Automobile dealers in Georgia are entitled to a refund from manufacturers on all "new cars in stock, in transit, paid for, or invoiced" carrying 5 per cent tax as of March 29, 1926, according to Josiah T. Rose, collector of internal revenue. Refunds also are due cigar manufacturers, jobbers and dealers.

Concerning the refund on the automobile tax Collector Rose said:

"Dealers are required to prepare inventories of new cars on hand on one sheet and cars in transit on another sheet, and swear to the correctness of inventories."

"Deputy collectors of internal revenue will inspect records of dealers, but not until the inventories have been prepared, sworn to and notice sent to the collector's office that such records are ready for inspection."

"Dealers need not hesitate about going ahead with the sale of cars so long as they keep sales records which show the cars that they sold on and after March 29 and before the deputy arrives to make the inspection. Full credit will be given on all new cars thus sold. Deputy collectors will not start to make this inspection before Monday, April 5."

Plan Conference Here on Training Camps, Ranges

A conference on progressive and coordinated development of training camps and target ranges for training components of the Fourth Corps area will be held in Atlanta next Monday when a war department board of officers comes here for inspection of training camps and target ranges.

Major General Johnson Hagood, commanding general of the Fourth Corps area, and adjutant general of the area and other prominent officers will attend the conference. Colonel Paul Giddings, staff officer at headquarters of the Fourth Corps area, will accompany the department board throughout the area as representative of General Hagood.

The board will consist of Lieutenant Colonel E. N. Caldwell, training division, war department general staff; Major R. S. Thomas, corps of engineers, militia bureau; Major A. M. ATTACK ON BARNES RUMORED IN ECHO OF PRICE PROBE

Forebodings of an attack on J. J. Barnes, city inspector of weights and measures and prosecutor of recent charges of "favoritism and irregularities" launched against W. P. Price, city purchasing agent, were seen Tuesday, when the purchasing committee of council summoned W. H. Jackson, of the Yancey Transfer company, to appear before the committee's next meeting to furnish information regarding the concern.

The Yancey concern now has a contract with the city for the hauling of coal, and at the hearing at which Mr. Price was vindicated of charges, it was charged that Barnes is connected with the hauling concern. The purpose of the committee is to probe these charges, it was said.

If it is found that Barnes is interested in the transfer company he is subject to impeachment under the city code, which provides that no employee shall be financially interested in any transactions in which city funds are spent. The penalty is impeachment.

The motion to investigate the Yancey concern and ascertain its real owners was made by Dr. J. E. Turner, member of the committee from the second ward, and was seconded by Councilman J. T. Osburn, of the seventh ward. Mr. Osburn also is a member of the police committee of city council, under which Barnes operates. It was intimated that if the probe warrants the police committee will be asked to take action and probably place Barnes on trial.

Mr. Barnes declared that he had severed his connection with the Yancey concern before the city made its contract with the firm, and that he has no interest in it. He said Tuesday he would welcome the investigation.

The committee transacted other business Tuesday afternoon, which included purchase of $50.75 of radium, 100 dozen sheets and 80 dozen pillow cases for Grady hospital. The Wofford Oil company was awarded the contract to furnish gasoline for the fire department for the remainder of the year; a contract to lay a cement floor in fire station No. 8 was given the Drive Way company, and contracts to furnish concrete sewer pipes, sewer brick and cast-iron piping for the waterworks department also were let.

NEGROES CHARGED WITH CIGAR THEFTS

Will Brown and Henry Turner, negroes, were jointly indicted Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury on charges of larceny from the house in connection with the theft of a quantity of cigars from a branch of the A. Schulte cigar stores at 33 Peachtree street.

Brown, it is alleged, was employed by the company to "clean up" the store each night following closing hours. He is said to have stolen 10 boxes of cigars valued at approximately $50 and to have turned them over to Turner, who disposed of them.

J. L. BURKS INDICTED ON ROBBERY CHARGE

An indictment charging larceny from a railroad car was returned Tuesday by the Fulton county grand jury against J. L. Burks, an employee of the Southern railroad, who is said to live on South Pryor street.

office of Solicitor General John A. Boykin, handled baggage on a Southern train running between Atlanta and Miami, Fla. He possessed a number of keys which he used to open and pilfer baggage in the car. It was charged. The indictment charged that Burks stole a quantity of clothing and other articles valued at $117.50, the property of Walter H. Pratt, of Miami, on January 2.

The railroad employee also was indicted on a dry law charge, it being alleged that he had in his possession on March 22 one quart of whiskey.

Moore Beats Walker Over 8-Round Route; Karst Wins Decision

Buck Mallard Scores Only Knockout in Opening Card of Season at Fort Mac—Pride is Other Winner.

Featured by one knock-out and three dandy battles which were won by hair-line decisions, the first boxing card of the season at Fort McPherson went over with a bang Tuesday night. The steady rains kept many folks away, but all the patrons who were on deck will be back for the next show.

In the main bout, K. O. Moore, well-known Atlanta scrapper, won the decision over Johnny Walker, of the Sixth cavalry, in an eight-rounder that provided action every minute. Referee Eddie Hazen gave Moore the decision, largely because of a knock-down scored in the seventh round, when he caught Walker on the button with a right uppercut.

That, however, was Moore's margin of victory, as the men had been on even terms before the seventh.

The semi-main bout saw Kid Karst take a decision over Irish Patsy Corbett, of Anderson, S. C., after the hardest kind of a battle. Corbett started away strong and earned a slight advantage in the early rounds, but Karst weathered the storm without any great difficulty, and came through in the final two stanzas to batter his way to a win. In the sixth round he had Corbett on the ropes in a bad way, and another round might have brought the K. O.

Buck Mallard, of Company A, provided the only knockout of the evening, laying Hatling Larson, of Fort Benning, in the poppy fields in the third round of their scheduled six-round set-to.

Mallard was the best all the way, and had Larson in plenty of trouble in the first two rounds.

GOOD DEMAND FOR BASEBALL ADMISSIONS

With tickets for both the Cleveland-Toronto and Yank-Dodger exhibition games to be played here Thursday, Friday and Saturday, moving at a fast clip, officials of the clubs involved believe the largest attendance ever at exhibition games in this city will turn out to watch the return of professional baseball after several cold and dreary months.

The Cleveland-Toronto game is to be played Thursday afternoon at Spiller field at 2:30 o'clock. The Yanks play the Dodgers both Friday and Saturday, with both games beginning at 2:30 o'clock. Tickets for the three games may be purchased at Stuart Murray's place or at Chess' place.

The return of professional baseball has been eagerly awaited here if calls at the sporting editor's desk for information about the form is a fair barometer. Both the Indians and Leafs, which teams open the exhibition season Thursday, have a large number of players who are well known here. This has helped to greatly stimulate interest.

It would be hard to name players more familiar to Atlanta than Tris Speaker, Benny Karr, Martin Autry, Joe and Luke Sewell, Fred Eichardt, Sherry Smith, Claude Satterfield, Lena Styles and many others who will wear the spangles of the Cleveland and Toronto Thursday.

The Yankees and Dodgers, who play here Friday and Saturday, have two of the most picturesque teams in baseball and a record turnout is expected. The Yanks have collected the world's most impressive group of home-run hitters and the Dodgers, with a powerful pitching staff, offer just the right defensive measures.

There is little doubt but that the Yanks with the great Ruth in their lineup, and several other celebrated home-run hitters as Bob Meusel, Lou Gehrig, Ben Paschal, Nick Cullip and Tony Lazzeri, offer probably the strongest batting card in professional baseball today. It is said the people like the look, and the Yanks certainly have provided just that in large quantities.

De Michaelow, owner of the Crackers, believes the three exhibition games which he has arranged for this week will put Atlanta's rabid fans on the proper edge for the debut of his 1926 edition of the Crackers, which is set for next Monday at the same place and the same time.

Tech Is Threat In Mile Relay

BY CARTER BARRON.

With several fast-stepping members of the 1925 freshmen rising to vary six class to supplement the veteran material already on the roster, Georgia Tech should out a real figure in the mile relay for colleges, one of the features of the Tech relays set for next month.

Louisiana State university took the event last year with a mark of 3 minutes 26.6 seconds. In the 1925 relays Mississippi A. & M. was second and Georgia third. All of these will be back with strong teams, but will have to step extremely lively to run away from the Yellow Jacket entries.

Captain Crowder, George Wilde and Julian Sakes, stars of last year's team, again will be available, but Kentz, Spoich and Cabanass, of last year's frosh, will push some of them for places. These three freshmen last year were members of the team that negotiated the mile relay in less than four second more than L. S. U. needed to win the event in the Tech games.

Indiana's entry also looks good, and among the teams entered at present there appears to be little to choose between Tech, L. S. U., Georgia, Indiana and Mississippi Aggies.

Sportively Speaking

by H.C. HAMILTON

Zbyszko Surprised.
Stecher Next.
Stribling Coming.

THE gallant Stanislaus Zbyszko, who sought to uphold the heavyweight wrestling reputation of the Polish race against the lighter but amazingly durable Jim London at the city auditorium Tuesday night probably is pondering over what happened to him. He was pinned to the mat for one of the few times in his career by the surprising London, whom he had agreed to pin twice within an hour's time.

Stanislaus, one of the grandest athletes who ever appeared in an American arena, not only had agreed to put London to the mat twice within the allotted time, but he had offered to pin two Greeks within that time. He seemed to have put away much coal to burn over the Greeks, but he failed to make much of a blaze Tuesday night.

PROMOTER CONTOS has promised to bring Joe Stecher here for a battle with London, since that gentleman was the winner of the fracas Tuesday, but fans of the city probably would just as readily turn out for a bout between London and "the old man," whom they admire greatly.

One of the deplorable facts is that the rain fell in torrents just prior to the match Tuesday. In spite of that the house was well filled and would have been packed had the weather been more considerate.

I WAS SURPRISED and glad to have a visit from the brilliant young Georgia light heavyweight, Young Stribling, Tuesday afternoon. Quietly, almost bashfully, he entered this office and said he was on his way to Macon for a visit.

I told the young boxer, just fresh from a triumph over Jimmy Slattery, that Georgians are much heated up over the prospect of seeing him in action. I pointed out that he is considerably exercised over the same possibility. He is coming here. There is no doubt of it. He is looking for the best possible opponent, a good date, and a place where he can pack in the state's entire quota of fans.

Pelicans Present Two New Faces

New Orleans, March 30.—(AP)—Hard hitting by one newcomer and snappy fielding by another in spring games here seems to insure the presence of two strange faces in the outfield of the New Orleans Pelicans.

Odie Strain, up from Augusta of the South Atlantic association by way of the draft, has compiled a batting average of .346 in seven games with the Boston Red Sox, topping off the performance with four out of five in the final game. Roy Ostergard, from Shreveport, of the Texas league, has not hit, but has fielded sensationally. Both seem certain to appear in the lineup at the opening. "Tarzan" Tucker will win the other outfield post without a dissenting vote. Manager Gilbert is also an outfielder, but does not have to work at his trade unless he wants to.

Peps, Boethians Plan Joint Meet

Saturday has been set as the big day for the joint track meet of the Pep and Boethian classes, according to announcements Tuesday. The meet will be held at Almand park.

Events of every description are on the program, with suitable awards for all the winners. All ticket holders will be eligible to participate in any events.

MISS COLLETT IS DEFEATED AT PINEHURST

Pinehurst, N. C., March 30.—Miss Louise Fordyce, of Youngstown, Ohio, won the annual North and South women's golf championship here today when she defeated Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., two up and one to play.

The two players, who started late because of weather conditions, were all square at the turn.

Playing the finals over a soggy course, the Ohio champion held her own all the way and seized the lead when Miss Collett faltered at the tenth hole. From then on Miss Fordyce's lead was never overcome.

The tenth and the eleventh went to the Youngstown player in succession, giving her a lead of two up, which eventually meant the match. It was at the tenth that the national titleholder's second fell short into the water hazard. Both had trouble at this hole, but Miss Collett conceded it after her fifth had failed.

Rain began to fall at the eleventh and the Providence player displayed a brassie shot which was in the rough. It was Miss Fordyce's hole again when, by a fine approach within 10 feet of the cup, she was able to sink her putt with apparent ease.

Miss Collett attempted to halt the winning streak of her opponent at the thirteenth by a beautiful drive. She won the hole with a four. The wet sand slowed up her first putt and she required another. The short fourteenth was halved, with both taking extra shots in the trap surrounding the green. Here again Miss Collett lost a chance when she missed another putt.

Miss Fordyce missed a chance to end the match at the sixteenth when she drove only a few feet over the sand and her third hung on the lip of the cup. The hole was halved on four.

Miss Collett's last opportunity to close up the lead was at the seventeenth, when the Ohio woman was in a double row of traps across the fairway on her second shot. The champion then tried for the green on her drive, which was some 300 yards, and she was trapped also. Both were out in three and Glenna was on the sand with the next, while Miss Fordyce was short. A putt by Miss Collett was past the cup. The hole was halved at six.

The win of Miss Fordyce follows an exhibition of steadiness throughout the tournament, which reached its anti-climax yesterday when she defeated Miss Helen Payson, of Portland, Maine, after a grueling contest that ended at the nineteenth.

Pinehurst Draws Many Golf Stars

Pinehurst, N. C., March 30.—(AP)—MacDonald Smith, who won the north and south open golf championship last year, has returned to defend his title when the 72-hole medal test starts the 24th annual tournament on Thursday.

Among the recently arrived competitors and champions are Walter Hagen, professional champion of America; Leo Diegel, holder of the Canadian title; Jim Barnes, winner of the British open; Archie Compston, English professional champion, who is making his initial visit here during his first year in America; Cyril Walker, of Winter Haven, former champion; Bobby Cruickshank and William Zellhorn, unattached; Johnny Farrell, Quaker Bridge; Tom Kerrigan, St. Anthony; Fred McLead, Washington; Tommy Armour, congressional; Tom Boyd, Fox Hill; Al Ciolek, Flushing; Emmett French, Southern Pines; Joe Capello, Pinehurst, and many other prominent professionals.

The first round was all even, but the tenth hole went to Miss Fordyce when Miss Collett's approach shot made the water hazard. The eleventh also went to Miss Fordyce when Miss Collett's second shot was short. They halved the twelfth.

A smashing brassie shot across the dog-leg fairway won the thirteenth hole for Miss Collett, when the ball stopped 4 feet from the cup. The fourteenth was halved.

Miss Fordyce again was victorious at the fifteenth when her opponent's ball was short on the second and landed in the trap.

The sixteenth was halved, making the match dormie 2.

Both players made the trap on a drive to the long seventeenth and Miss Collett had the advantage of one stroke when the green was reached, but Miss Fordyce sank a 6-foot putt for a halve and won the match.

Miss Fordyce was runner-up to Miss Collett in this tournament in 1924.

W. L. VISITOR; SAYS HE PLANS TO BOX HERE

W. L. "Young" Stribling, the pugilistic pride of Georgia, dropped off in the midst of Tuesday's rainstorm and did some visiting about the town before leaving with his bride for Macon, Ga., where they will spend a few days. The young man, who has become rich by wielding his fists, left some bits of information about his future plans, which are rather interesting to Atlanta fans, for among them is one bit to the effect that he positively is going to make an appearance some of these days before long for local fans.

"There is a possibility that Georges Carpentier and I will meet here," said Stribling. "The thing has been talked about and it is looked upon with favor. Carpentier himself would like to meet me here. If we can get the proper place for it, we might stage it in the open. Plans are rather indefinite right now."

Stribling asserted positively that he soon would meet some good boy in New Jersey ring within a short time.

"I don't know who my opponent in New Jersey will be," said Stribling, "but I know that the money has been guaranteed and plans are going forward for the match."

After a visit at Macon the Striblings probably will go to Miami for a few days and then return to Atlanta. "Pa" Stribling, manager of his athletic son's fortunes, is expected here within a few days and some preliminary scouting for the appearance of W. L.

Tiger - Springhill Game Washed Out

Mobile, Ala., March 30.—(Special.) The annual baseball game between Springhill college and Auburn was called off this afternoon on account of rain, which fell all day. The Auburnites did not leave their hotel. They left the city tonight for New Orleans, where they play Loyola tomorrow afternoon.

Gowdy and Niehoff, Rival Managers, Had Locations Crossed

Contest Will Be Run Off Today in Thomasville As Originally Shown on Atlanta Boss' Playing Program.

BY CLARENCE NIXON, Staff Correspondent.

Thomasville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—Another day of idleness in the Cracker training camp went down in history today due to the rainy weather now prevailing around Thomasville. It has rained almost steadily since last Sunday night.

Monday the Niehoffians made an attempt at working and managed to get in a few minutes between down-pours, but today the Cracker skipper decided it was too wet.

The game between the Columbus club of the American association which was scheduled for today also was put away. Bert Niehoff got in touch with Hank Gowdy, the Columbus skipper, by telephone and found out that it had rained there for two days and the diamond is a swamp.

The Columbus manager or Niehoff one had the dates for the games mixed. Gowdy thought his team was supposed to come here for a game instead of the Crackers going over there. Had it not rained today the Columbus team probably would have met the Crackers on the way. After a little arguing Niehoff, finally convinced Gowdy that the Crackers were scheduled to play his team in Quitman today and the Columbus club to be here tomorrow.

Some of the Crackers who are ambitious worked on the generosity of the manager of the Y. M. C. A. and did their daily dozens there.

Today was the first day the Crackers have had to lay off from work the whole day. Most of the players read and slept. Some of them gave their brains a good workout with the Atlanta newspapers, which get here in the morning in time to read after breakfast. Fishing and golf were out of the question.

Tonight it looked as if the game scheduled tomorrow may have been called off. If the rain continues much longer the Thomasville diamond will be in bad shape. The sun peeped out from behind a dark cloud for about three minutes today and departed for parts unknown.

Petrel-Bulldog Game Rained Out

BY MARCUS BRYANT.

Atlanta, Ga., March 30.—(Special.) Rain halted the second of the Georgia-Oglethorpe series here this afternoon. A drizzling rain fell at the start of the game, which was called with the Bulldogs at bat in her half of the first inning.

Oglethorpe had scored two runs in the first frame. Duke Terrell, first up, hit the second pitched ball for a homer into the branch in center field. The other run resulted from an error by Arenowitch and Kent's single to right.

Kain and Morton composed the Georgia battery, with Hugh Buchanan and Minninet working for the Petrels.

Georgia plays Alabama here next Friday and Saturday in the next series.

AGNEW ART EXHIBIT SHOWN AT BILTMORE

Twenty-three pictures, classics of Flemish, Italian, Spanish and English schools, will be exhibited at the Biltmore hotel from 2 until 6 o'clock each afternoon and from 8:30 until 10:30 o'clock each evening, commencing today and scheduled to continue until April 7. The collection which includes canvases ranging in value from $500 to $18,000, was brought to Atlanta from Palm Beach by Thomas Agnew & Sons, prominent English art dealers. This is the only city where the Agnew exhibit will be shown prior to its return to New York.

The exhibition at the Biltmore hotel is being held under the auspices of the Atlanta Art association. D. F. Houston, Jr., son of the secretary of the treasury and American representative of the English art firm, is one of those in charge of the exhibit. The opening was marked by a private display Tuesday, from 10:30 until 6:30 o'clock.

Among the earliest paintings in the collection are "The Rape of Amyone," by Jacopo Bellini, father of Giovanni Bellini. Another picture is Domenico's "Lady on a Balcony," which is adjudged the most valuable picture of the group.

Other Italian examples include canvases by Francesco Guardi, the most famous of eighteenth century painters of outdoor scenes, and a similar work by Bernardo Bellotto, done about 1750. Religious subjects by Italians include Calisto's "Madonna, Child and Saint Jerome," painted about 1530. This picture was formerly in the famous collection of Lord Wimborne. Caravaggio's "Madonna and Child," done about 1190, is also displayed.

Sir Joshua Reynolds' portrait of General Lord Townsend is an outstanding example of the work of English painters. Three examples of the work of Sir Thomas Lawrence's portraits are offered also. Others of the English school include Beechey's "Portrait of Mrs. Noyes," Marlow's "Avignon," Northcote's "Portrait of Mr. George Lock," and Say's "The Payworth Boys."

Jean-Baptiste's "Virgin and Child," from the collection of Fairfax Murray, from which many of the works

now in the Morgan collection, of New York, were obtained, is an outstanding example of the Flemish school.

Another Flemish work is Van der Meulen's "The Young Student." The single example of a work of the French school is a self-portrait of Eleanora dei Medici, sister of the famous Catherine, offered. Marieschi's "Scuola della Carita, Venice," and Romolino's "Portrait of a Man in Black," are other notable Italian paintings.

Alexander Borders, Pioneer Georgian, Dies in Birmingham

News has been received in Atlanta of the death Tuesday afternoon in a private hospital at Birmingham, Ala., of Alexander Borders, 80, pioneer citizen of Georgia, and well known throughout the state. Mr. Borders' sudden death occurred while he was visiting his son, Robert H. Borders, prominent business man of Birmingham.

Mr. Borders was a volunteer in the Confederate army at the age of 16 and at the close of the war was a commissioned officer. After his discharge from the service he married Miss Caroline Bagby, belle of Cornington, Ga., who died about three years ago. He was a member of the Methodist church of McDonough, Ga., and of the Odd Fellows.

In addition to his son, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. R. H. McCoy and Mrs. John Noel, both of Atlanta. The body will be brought to McDonough, Ga., for funeral services and interment.

Many Couples Would Wed At Firemen's Big Circus

Mrs. C. H. Hildebrand, wife of the popular driver of Fire Chief Cody's big red car, is the sponsor for Engine House No. 7 in the various contests preceding the Firemen's Benefit circus. Above she is shown with her husband ready to "step on the gas" in the contest for sponsors.

More than two score Atlanta couples have applied to Fire Chief W. B. Cody, expressing their desire to marry at a public ceremony which will be one of the many features of the Firemen's Benefit circus during the week of April 22 at the Highland avenue circus ground.

The couple selected from the large list of entries will receive a cash prize of $50, and many beautiful presents. Firemen will furnish the minister and flowers for the bride and bridesmaids and high city officials will be attendants of the young couple.

Mrs. C. H. Hildebrand, wife of the driver of Chief Cody's "Red Devil," is the latest sponsor in the popularity contest which is being held in connection with the circus. Mrs. Hildebrand represents engine house No. 7. Enthusiasm is gaining daily in the ticket selling contest in which scores of pretty girls are participating. The winner in this event will be awarded an automobile, while runners up and all entrants in the contest will be given cash prizes ranging from $10 to $100.

Announcement was made Tuesday that a prize will be given the sponsor who turns in the largest number of votes up to Friday of this week.

LARGER SANITARIUM FOR STATE IS ASKED

Milledgeville, Ga., March 30.—(Special.)—The board of trustees of Georgia state sanitarium announced today its report for 1925 will show that 6,225 patients were treated during the period, the daily average being 4,501. New patients numbering 1,175 were received; 5,391 were under treatment at the end of 1925 of which 678 were out on furlough. The sanitarium closed the year without deficit; per capita cost was $229.14 and daily cost per patient a little more than 63 cents, the report reveals.

The number of patients now in excess of accommodations is 740 and so serious is the situation the board has closed the sanitarium to "all but acute or curable cases of insanity and to cases known to be dangerous to themselves and others." It is stated the order will continue until more room is obtained. To relieve congestion and to provide for more patients, four new buildings are recommended with capacity for 1,500 patients. The additions will care for excess population and provide room for 400 patients. It is estimated they will cost $700,000. The board expresses belief the sanitarium is doing the best work in its history and commends its officers for this showing. To aid the medical department in advancing efficiency, the board asks a general hospital be added for curable cases of insanity and the physically ill cases, the cost of which is estimated at $250,000. Other needs are scheduled and the cost of the program totals $1,008,000.

The board protests against efforts to transfer to the sanitarium the convict insane cases cared for by another department and with this protest recommends this department continue to care for the criminal insane. The protest is based on the fact the sanitarium has neither prison walls, bars nor guards to prevent the escape of dangerous patients. Officials maintain it is a hospital for the insane where by skilled treatment and humane care they may be restored to health. To create a prison atmosphere about them is deemed fatal and to bring about an enforced association of innocent insane with criminal classes is thought to be unwise.

Missing Witness Declared Member Of Chapman Gang

Hartford, Conn., March 30.—(AP)—Hurt M. Alcorn, state's attorney for Hartford county, today made public documentary evidence which he said would prove that Charles William Gregory, so-called missing alibi witness for Gerald Chapman, convicted murderer, is an ex-convict and a former member of Chapman's own gang.

Gregory is the alleged witness who telegraphed Frederick J. Groehl, chief defense counsel, from a small town in upstate New York that he would appear as an alibi witness. Last summer Gregory went from New York to Hartford with Nathan C. Freeman for the defense counsel and identified Chapman at the state prison as the man with whom he rode on a train from Springfield, Mass., on October 11, 1924, between 4:10 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. The patrolman was killed early the next morning, too soon for Chapman to have returned to New Britain, according to the attorneys.

Mr. Alcorn said tonight he now had evidence that instead of being on the Springfield-New York train on that date, Gregory was in fact employed on a trans-Atlantic liner as an assistant steward. This information is contained in a statement from Dr. William T. Hanson of the Bridgewater hospital, at Bridgewater, Mass.

"Home Beautiful" Week— 76,000 People— What Does It Mean?

"Home Beautiful" Week is a week set apart each spring by The Constitution, when, with the cooperation of local merchants and manufacturers, several new houses are selected and completely furnished throughout, always keeping in mind good taste without extravagance—showing homelovers how their homes may be made more beautiful, more livable, and yet stay within their means of expenditure.

This year nine houses are shown—the show opening last Sunday, and already 76,000 people have visited these homes, viewing with intense interest the excellent good taste shown by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Thomas, nationally known house furnishers, who are in charge of the displays and who are solely responsible for their arrangement.

This means that each year finds the "Home Beautiful" Week gaining in volume and interest—that Atlanta is a wonderful city, made up of people who are always looking to the improvement of their homes—that these people receive and read The Constitution—or else they never would have come out in such large numbers, as The Constitution is the only Atlanta newspaper putting on the "Home Beautiful" week.

GIRLS OF SCHOOL AGE LEARN VALUABLE LESSON

Find Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a Dependable Medicine

LOUISE LOUTHAN
ROUTE 2, CHARLESTON, ILLINOIS

From the days of the polio to the days of the radium, mothers have given this dependable medicine to their daughters. School girls are often careless. They get wet feet, they overstudy or they tire themselves with too many dances and parties. They get run down. Many an active girl of today, like the famous maiden of the 1870's, has found that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is helping her to lead a better health and energy.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it did her a wonderful lot of good. She had been out of school for four months. I read the advertisements of the Vegetable Compound, and since she has taken it she has improved and has gone back to school again. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to other mothers with girls who are not as strong as they should be.—Mrs. ALICE LOUTHAN, Route 2, Charleston, Illinois.

"My daughter was out of school two terms. I have known about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all my life and finally decided that she should try it. Three bottles helped her in various ways for the next couple of years."—Mrs. W. E. GILLETTE, 936 E. 52nd Place, Los Angeles, Calif.

"I have always been sickly, and until I was fourteen my father was very strict about my perfect attendance at grammar school. I have gone to school through hard storms and often taken cold. When I was fourteen I took to my bed and did not get up for eighteen months. Everyone thought I could not live. Just four months ago I began taking your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I could notice a great change almost at once. Now I feel like a new person. I wish all girls would try Lydia E. Pinkham's wonderful medicine."—Mrs. C. M. SMITH, Union Village, Vermont.

Miss Davidson To Spend Easter Holidays at Home

Miss Catherine Davidson will arrive Thursday from St. Genevieve's school, Asheville, N. C., to spend the Easter holidays at the Georgian Terrace hotel with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Davidson.

Mrs. Davis will entertain a number of the younger social contingent at the Atlanta Biltmore Monday afternoon, the occasion honoring her attractive schoolgirl daughter.

Miss Davidson will be central figure in a round of social gaieties at which the college set will assemble during the Easter season.

Mrs. Davidson will return to Asheville with her daughter, where she will spend two weeks.

Memorial Exercises At Washington Seminary

Mrs. Hal Hentz, program chairman of Washington seminary alumnae, has arranged a series of memorial exercises relative to the dedication exercises of the library room at the seminary to be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. This library room has been furnished in memory of Mrs. Alice Chandler Matthews. Presiding over the exercises will be Mrs. Hawley Coleman, president of the alumnae, and seated with her will be all the past presidents of the association.

Dr. W. W. Menninger will give the invocation and Mrs. Margaret B. Hentz will render a vocal selection. Appreciations of Mrs. Alice Chandler Matthews will be made by Mrs. John Matthews, Little Miss Emily Matthews, only daughter of Mrs. Matthews, will render a piano selection.

The fund for the library was started in 1920 by Miss Katharine Collier of Washington, Ga., who was a student in Mrs. Bessie Chandler Matthews' class, and since that time the Alumnae association of the school has exemplified the plans and furnished the funds. Mrs. Hentz, who was president for several years of the alumnae, will give a resume of the memorial fund, how it was started and the works accomplished.

A short talk will be made by representatives of three study clubs, including Every Saturday, Wednesday Morning club and Study club. Virginia solo, Miss Ruth Dabney Smith, L. L. Scott, principal of Washington seminary, will make the acceptance speech. Closing the exercises will be the Seminary Alma Mater, sung by the student body.

Mrs. Prince Webster has charge of programs and will arrange an attractive feature for the next meeting to be held Monday afternoon, April 20, at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Cooney on Ponce de Leon avenue. "Wild Flowers" will be the subject of the April meeting.

Woman's Club To Present "Tannhauser"

"Tannhauser," the beautiful opera, will be presented by the Atlanta Woman's club Monday afternoon, April 12, at the regular meeting. Mrs. Roger Wilson, talented dramatic reader, will interpret the opera, while two guest artists from Griffin, Ga., will assist by presenting the musical numbers. Garland Martin, choirmaster in the First Baptist church of Griffin, will sing "The Evening Star" and other selections. Miss Elizabeth Norman, finished violinist, will render several of the selections from the opera, accompanied by local artists at the piano. There will be no admission charges for the presentation of "Tannhauser" at the club, as it will constitute the regular program of the afternoon and all members are urged to attend and enjoy the interpretation of this beautiful opera.

Mrs. Mary Griffith Dobbs music chairman for the club, will have direction of the musical program and it promises to be most artistic. This will be entirely different from the regular programs of the club, and will give the members an unusual pleasure. Mrs. Norman Sharp, president, will preside over the meeting and present Mrs. Wilson and the visiting artists.

Band of Mercy Is Organized

On Saturday afternoon Miss Anna Mae Farmer organized a "Band of Mercy" to be known as the Orpheus Band of Mercy, with Roland Tomlinson as president, and Dorothy McDonald as secretary. The outline of the study work of this band is to consider the protection of animals from its various phases including the caring and feeding of homeless animals; cruelty to animals through the killing of animals for sport; meat eating, which necessitates the useless slaughter of thousands of animals every year; vivisection and its infliction of pain and cruelty in the name of humanity; the cruelties behind trick animal performances in theaters, wild west shows, circuses, rodeos and other places; the trapping and killing of animals for furs.

The meetings of the Orpheus Band of Mercy are to be held monthly. The members are Mrs. Guttman, Vadie Smith, Dorothy Ramage, Alice Taylor, Virginia Ramage, Robert Taylor, Francis Kohler, Louise Kohler, Tom Haynes, Billie Nell Haynes, Alice Furr, Miriam Jones, Lucile Jenkins, Robert Jenkins, Reginald Ward, Martha Heron, Geraldine Robertson, Elsa Nix, Amariella Pickett, Charlotte Wood, Joanna Wood, Elizabeth Langford, Margaret Langford, Frances Holsenbach, Katherine Hicks, Alice Armstead, Charlotte Tomlinson.

Junior Red Cross Council To Meet

The High School Council of the Junior Red Cross, of which Miss Rowena Wade, of the Girls' High school, is president, will meet on Thursday afternoon, April 1, at the headquarters of the Atlanta chapter, American Red Cross, 283-1-2 Peachtree street, at 3:30 o'clock. Matters of importance will be discussed and the program for Easter activities as well as for other activities will be reviewed.

The current (April) number of the Junior Citizen, the official organ of Junior Red Cross, carries a front-page picture of Miss Frances Duke, president of student government of the Atlanta Normal school. Miss Duke is shown holding a number of dolls sent to Atlanta from foreign countries in response to the Christmas bazaar of which some 5,000 are sent annually to these countries from Atlanta school children. This foreign correspondence of the Junior Red Cross is an activity which has received the endorsement of prominent educators and it is interesting to note the part played by Atlanta in this project.

Miss White Honored At Lovely Luncheon

Interest centers in the invitations which have been issued by Mrs. Leri Donaldson White to the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to William Jeter Weems, on Saturday afternoon, April 10, at 4:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents on Lakeview avenue.

Among the affairs in honor of Miss White was the luncheon Tuesday at the Henry Gray hotel given by Mrs. Goodwin Walker.

Covers were placed for Mrs. Walker, Miss White, Miss Virginia White, Mrs. D. L. White, Mrs. Sheffield, Jr., Mrs. Felix Borzinski, Mrs. Harris White, of Tampa, Fla.; Miss Margaret Rogers, and Mrs. Garland Moltz, of Tampa.

Garden Calendar To Be on Sale At Mrs. Sisson's on Thursday

Garden Calendar, the practical book issued by the Peachtree Garden club, will be off the press Thursday, April 1, and will be on sale at the home of Mrs. Charles A. Sisson, chairman of sales, at 46 West Eleventh street, the nominal price of $1 being asked for the booklet, the sale of which is open to the public.

This is the first installment of garden literature to be published by the Garden club and contains a calendar of plants suitable for Atlanta climate. It treats of monthly planting, and gives practical aid and suggestions to the beginner, as well as to the more advanced gardener.

The proceeds accruing from the sale of Garden Calendar will go towards the cultivation and beautification of the Jean Cochrane Witham memorial garden at the home for incurables, which is being sponsored by the Peachtree Garden club in memory of the late Mrs. W. S. Witham, who was a member of the club.

Miss Nellie Hightower, chairman of the plant sale, announced that the next sale will be held Wednesday afternoon, April 7, at the home of the president, Mrs. Phinix Calhoun, on Andrews drive.

Mrs. William H. Kiser is chairman of the tulip show to be held in April, the date of which will be announced later.

The Garden club went on record and pledged to support the conservation law, which forbids the pulling of wild flowers and shrubs.

Dr. T. H. McHaffan, a member of the state college of agriculture of the University of Georgia, was the interesting speaker of Monday's program when the Garden club met Monday at the home of Mrs. S. V. D. Manley on Pace's Ferry road. He recommended the planting of a typical southern garden, including magnolias, boxwood and jessamine.

Mrs. Prince Webster has charge of programs and will arrange an attractive feature for the next meeting to be held Monday afternoon, April 20, at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Cooney on Ponce de Leon avenue. "Wild Flowers" will be the subject of the April meeting.

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was the bridge-tee at which Mrs. George Casaday and Miss Margaret Casaday were hostesses at their quarters in Fort McPherson Tuesday afternoon.

Tea was poured by Mrs. George Baltzelle.

Joint Hostesses At Lovely Tea

The guests included Mrs. Grover C. Graham, Mrs. Glenn A. Ross, Mrs. James Magee, Mrs. Clyde C. Johnston, Mrs. Richard D. Lee, Mrs. Edward G. Huber, Mrs. Robert Peck and her mother, Mrs. A. E. Peck, of Palo Alto, Calif.; Mrs. Henry J. Lucking, Mrs. John C. Woodland, Mrs. Thomas Hearn, Mrs. Seward W. Hulse, Mrs. Thomas Page, Mrs. John B. Kockman and her guest, Mrs. C. E. Brindel, of Harrisburg, Pa.; Mrs. George P. Baltzelle, Mrs. Harry J. Keely and Mrs. Herbert Teate and Mrs. S. W. Hardee.

Prof. Geyser To Speak At Piedmont Hotel

Professor Albert C. Geyser, M. D., late professor at Fordham university and lecturer at Cornell university, will deliver a lecture on "Hypertrichosis: Its Causes and Cure," including a detailed explanation of the tricho method, in the gray room, Piedmont hotel, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, March 31.

Dr. Geyser is in the city to speak before a body of physicians and the special lecture at 10 o'clock Wednesday is open to anyone interested in the subject. No admission charged. By invited.

Theosophical Center To Hold Open Meeting

The Atlanta center of the Theosophical society will hold an open meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at 201, 225 Peachtree street. A short talk on "Reincarnation" will be given by Arthur Applewhite, after which there will be an open forum. This will be followed by a social hour. Friends and all interested in theosophy and occult subjects are cordially invited.

Atlanta Girl Scouts To Attend Convention

Twelve Atlanta delegates will attend the southern regional convention of Girl Scouts, which meets in Savannah, Ga., April 10 and 11. During the convention they will be the guests of the Savannah Girl Scouts.

The convention begins Saturday morning with a business session. Followed by the scouts will be entertained at a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouts in America.

The afternoon session will be held on board a boat which will take the scouts down the Savannah river and into the harbor.

At 8 o'clock Saturday night the Savannah Girl Scout Patrol Leaders' association will entertain the visitors at a banquet. Sunday morning at 11:30 there will be a joint church service and in the afternoon a motor trip to Tybee with supper at Camp Wallala, the Savannah Girl Scout camp.

The Atlanta scouts to attend the convention will be Misses Margaret Bates, Genie Davis, Anne Wynn Fleming, Miriam Fleming, Adelaide Fleming, Evelyn Garvin, Marguerite Gunn, Virginia Heard, Aldora Hudson, Ruth Peck, Josephine Newbury, Louise Wesley and Betty Wisberg. They will leave for Savannah Friday morning, April 9, and return Sunday night, April 11, being chaperoned on the trip by Mrs. Frank D. Holland, Mrs. J. F. Heard and Mrs. Malcolm Fleming.

During the convention Mrs. Frank D. Holland will be the guest of Mrs. Juliette Low, national founder, who will also entertain Dean Sarah Louise Arnold, national president of the Girl Scouts.

Prominent Army Officials To Be Honored This Evening

Marking an epoch in social brilliance and inaugurating the spring season in military circles will be the large reception and dance to be given by the members of the Officers' club at Fort McPherson this evening, the elaborate affair to be in the nature of a welcome to General Joseph B. SLAMS AND SALAAMS

By Louise Dooly

EASTER WEEK upon us, and confusion instead of peace in the hearts of the women.

Prone to pique, all of us. But faintest, too, by original sin, which, in these days of the changing season, brings on, as it has since the Garden of Eden, the worldly problem of clothes.

We bought a fashion book and craved for what we are about to write. Not that we didn't have a lot in our head on the subject already. But we wanted to be authentic.

Why Fashions in Clothes Are Not Changing? That was the first article that hit us in the eye.

Briefly, the answer is: because of the active conditions of modern life, and because of the desire of all women to look young.

Sounds plausible, doesn't it?

To touch upon the second condition first, there were the two pretty young matrons of our acquaintance, individualistic enough, both of them, to defy convention and keep their hair long.

They went into a certain shop all of us know and asked the nearest bobbed head behind the counter to show them hats for long hair; large head sizes.

The autocrat behind the counter waved indifferently to a case nearby. "There they are," she condescended without looking at the hats or the prospective purchasers.

The young women looked, and saw an array of headgear designed not even for middle age, but for nice old ladies.

"Why those," they protested, "are for elderly women."

"Well, didn't you ask for hats for long hair?"

PRINCESSES, real live ones, are posing for the milliners, the costumers, and the fashion books. There are many now in Paris, who have lost their inherited vocation by revolution, the dictatorship epidemic, or the many new experiments in republics that the fashion houses are profiting mightily thereby. Princesses as models on which to hang the creations of the Parisian dressmakers are quite

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Calotabs, the purified and refined calomel compound tablet that gives you the effects of calomel and salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all.

No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 35 cents. At any drug store.

"EVERYTHING I ATE DISAGREED WITH ME"

"For several years I suffered with a bad case of chronic indigestion," says Mrs. Sam C. Inman, of Pilot Mountain, N. C. "I had bad spells with my stomach and liver. At times I had severe pains in my right side. My stomach would get upset and I would have an awful time. It seemed like everything I ate disagreed with me. My liver did not act properly and I was in pretty bad shape."

"My husband had been using Thedford's Black-Draught for some time for indigestion. He had spells of it too, so he suggested that I try Black-Draught. I took some from his box, just to see if it would help me, and I found that it was the very thing for my trouble. It did me a great deal of good. My condition was brought on by a case of chronic constipation and, by getting relief from this, I found my general health was much better."

"We keep Black-Draught in the house all the time. Whenever I find I need it, I take several doses and thus avert a bad spell of indigestion. It is a splendid medicine and I am glad to say so."

"I mix up a tea of Thedford's Black-Draught to give to my children whenever they get upset. I could not raise my family without Black-Draught, for it is necessary to have a simple home remedy to give the children in case of stomach spells. I find Black-Draught invaluable for this."

"I mix up a tea of Thedford's Black-Draught to give to the children. They don't mind taking it a bit. I find it is best to give it at night, when I put them to bed. Black-Draught has been my stand-by in raising the children."

Thedford's Black-Draught contains no harmful drugs. Many families tell of it being used by every member, old and young. J.A.26

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Battle of Guilford Court House.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

GENERAL NATHANIEL GREENE, SAFE FROM PURSUIT BEYOND THE DAN RIVER, HAD INCREASED HIS ARMY TO 4400 MEN AND NOW DECIDED TO ATTACK GENERAL CORNWALLIS WHO WAS HANGING IN THE NEIGHBORHOOD TRYING TO INDUCE THE INHABITANTS TO JOIN THE BRITISH.

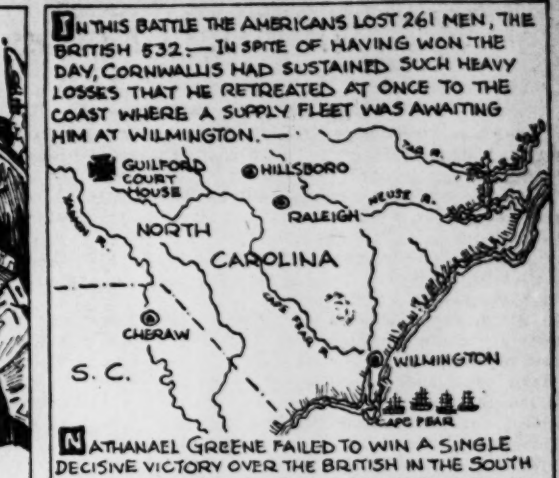

ALTHOUGH MOST OF HIS TROOPS WERE RAW MILITIA RECRUITS, GREENE BOLDLY RE-CROSSED THE DAN ON MARCH 15, 1781, OFFERED BATTLE TO CORNWALLIS, WHO, WITH 2,200 BRITISH REGULARS WAS AT GUILFORD COURT HOUSE (NOW GREENSBORO) NORTH CAROLINA. — (© 1925 MCGRAW-HILL PUBLISHERS, INC.)

IN THE EXCITEMENT OF THEIR FIRST BATTLE, 1046 OF GREENE'S UNTRAINED MILITIAMEN FLED, BUT THE REMAINDER OF HIS SOLDIERS STOOD THEIR GROUND AND BRAVELY FACED THE CHARGE OF CORNWALLIS' SEASONED VETERANS. —

AFTER A DESPERATE STRUGGLE THE AMERICANS WITHDREW IN GOOD ORDER BEFORE THE ATTACK OF THE REDCOATS BUT WERE FORCED TO ABANDON THEIR ARTILLERY TO THE ENEMY.

IN THIS BATTLE THE AMERICANS LOST 261 MEN, THE BRITISH 532. — IN SPITE OF HAVING WON THE DAY, CORNWALLIS HAD SUSTAINED SUCH HEAVY LOSSES THAT HE RETREATED AT ONCE TO THE COAST WHERE A SUPPLY FLEET WAS AWAITING HIM AT WILMINGTON. —

NATHANIEL GREENE FAILED TO WIN A SINGLE DECISIVE VICTORY OVER THE BRITISH IN THE SOUTH BUT HIS GOOD GENERALSHIP IS SHOWN BY THE WAY HE EXHAUSTED AND TRICKED THE ENEMY. — WORN OUT BY THEIR EFFORTS TO CRUSH THE ELUSIVE GREENE, THE BRITISH EVACUATED MANY OF THEIR INLAND POSTS AND SOON THE CAROLINAS WERE AGAIN IN AMERICAN HANDS. — CORNWALLIS IN VIRGINIA. —

the thing. Particularly in houses which cater especially to the American trade.

AND speaking of the American woman who buys her clothes abroad, there is one item of fashion news which genuinely intrigues me. (There. We've done it. No fashion literature would be genuine which did not intrigue something or somebody. We hope to make an "important" necklace or "important" veil sound just as natural before we get through.)

This item is that some of the French houses are catering especially to the business woman, in gowns suited for the office, which may then with taste be worn to luncheon or tea.

Is the business woman, then, in so great numbers, going formally into society that a new cult in clothes is therefore involved?

Or does the suggestion grow out of the fact which is making it de rigueur for the society woman to "take up" business?

Maybe neither. Maybe both. Or maybe it is that the business woman is getting adjusted now to her comparatively new world, is realizing the necessity for adding a bit of play to a lot of work?

ISN'T it funny?—and, yet, isn't it logical?—that the fashion books are carrying style hints in automobiles for women just as calmly and logically as styles in sports. For, indeed, there are fashions in sports.

When you see models in white clothes for Palm Beach, skiing costumes and hiking garb which are becoming garb for the mountains of North Carolina, bathing suits for Newport or the Pier, it is not alone the proper thing in riding clothes, beach costumes and hiking garb which are being put forward, but the correct reports at which to wear them, the correct sports to pursue.

If there is the proper thing in reports, and in sports, why not in automobiles?

And, on the other hand, one can be equally buried in the resort that is not smart as in the car which is not affected by the hat mode.

THEN, too, there is a special sports style for travel in Egypt or a trip to the Bermudas. One must be very meticulous in one's care to order into Egypt the clothes designed for Egypt, and not to slip on a Bermuda gown in Cairo. The khedive mightn't like it.

The woman of limited income and extravagant taste is almost unfortunately satisfying, because it spoils her for what she has to put up with the rest of the time.

MOREOVER, any woman with social ambition and a limited pocket book is obliged to be scared stiff when she studies the present modes in jewelry. The ownership of at least one string of pearls, we find on the best authority, is obligatory to any social position. And yet three or four strings are now so customary with the woman who dresses well, that the obligatory string looks positively tawdry.

"A long string of important-looking pearls," says the Baron de Mever, "is duplicated by a second string of equal length but of much smaller size. It gives an informal look to valuable necklaces, which is often desirable, especially when they are worn with sweaters."

Now, even though the baron says it's all right, we personally are unconvinced in this business of wearing double strings of pearls with a sweater. So we compromise by never wearing a sweater.

PATOU is abandoning beads as a trimming for gowns in favor of millinery. We abandoned them before Patou did, because we got tired sewing them back on. We trust paillettes stay put better than beads.

The distinctive thing about the new pajamas is that they are draped to look like a skirt. Then, why pajamas?

The woman who knows what she ought not to wear is considerably impeded thereby in her shopping. But her purse profits.

And when is a conscience most afflicting?

Why, when it impels a woman to wear her mistakes.

ACTION DELAYED ON NEW JUDGE

Washington, March 30.—(Special) The sub-committee of the judiciary committee which is considering the bill for creation of another judicial district in Georgia made no decision at its Tuesday session on the form of the legislation, but decided upon request of Representative Lankford to call another meeting Thursday.

Lankford asked the postponement of the ground that members of the delegation could meet meanwhile and attempt to reach some agreement. He said afterward that he would abide by what the majority decided, as demonstrated by a vote after there had been full discussion of the subject. The meeting of the delegation will probably be held Wednesday.

SOUTHEASTERN POWER TO OFFER 8,000 SHARES TODAY

New York, March 30.—(Special)—Boulevard and company plan to transfer tomorrow 8,000 shares of Southeastern Power and Light company's 87 cumulative preferred stock at a price of $84 to yield 7.10 per cent. The $8,000 stock does not represent a new issue, but increases to 30,375 shares the outstanding amount of an authorized issue of 100,000 shares of 87 cumulative preferred.

It is understood that the proceeds will be used for the acquisition of additional properties and other corporate purposes. In its recently expanded position the Southeastern Power and Light company serves virtually the entire state of Alabama, the eastern half of Mississippi, a section of Florida and the northern part of Georgia.

Gross earnings have grown steadily from $1,400,441 in 1915 to $17,661,870 in 1925, and the acquisition recently of the Georgia Railway and Power properties raises the company's gross business to a rate of more than $25,000,000 annually.

Southeastern Power and Light has no mortgage bonds, so that the only issue ahead of the 87 stock is $23,650,000 debenture bonds that mature in 2025. Upon the acquisition of the Georgia Railway and Power company stock now deposited for exchange the preferred stock will be followed by 287,843 shares of participating preferred stock, 1,937,516 shares of common stock and 473,378 option warrants to purchase common stock at $50 a share.

JOSEPH G. COLLINS, ATTORNEY, ENTERS RACE FOR CONGRESS

Joseph G. Collins, Gainesville attorney, Tuesday announced his candidacy for congress from the ninth district of Georgia, subject to the democratic primary of September 8. He will oppose Thomas M. Bell, for many years representative from the ninth district. Mr. Collins declared he would issue a statement later outlining his platform.

He was graduated from the University of Virginia law school in 1902 with honors and settled in Gainesville, where he has practiced law. He was solicitor of the superior court for four years but did not offer for reelection. He is a native of Union county, Georgia and received his early education in schools of this state.

MAN SUICIDES TO SETTLE DEBTS WITH INSURANCE

Bluefield, W. Va., March 30.—(P) So that his debts could be paid from his life insurance policy, Charles E. Marshall is dead here, a suicide.

In a letter found after his body, with the throat cut, was discovered, Marshall said he was bankrupt and that rather than fail to pay those he had promised, he would sacrifice his life, since the insurance policy was his only asset.

Ryman Appears Here in Concert At Auditorium

From the youngest steamboat captain on the Tennessee river to the foremost American concert tenor of the present day is the story of 15 years of struggle and success behind Paul Ryman, who sings at the city auditorium-armory at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

night for the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. chapter house mortgage fund.

Mr. Ryman sketched his career briefly Tuesday afternoon during an interval in his rehearsal for the concert tonight with Carl Bentele, the noted pianist-composer who is to assist him.

The singer's great voice first found expression in the rollicking songs of the river as he stood in the pilot's cabin while his pocket boat plowed the stream, making him known throughout the length of the Tennessee as the "singing skipper."

Fifteen years ago his voice was heard by a famous New York impresario who wandered into an auditorium where Ryman was the featured star in a home town minstrel show in Nashville and the youngster, still in his early teens, was first told that he had a talent in his voice of far greater value than all his lore of the river.

The next five years he devoted to rigorous study under the foremost voice teachers and coaches of America and then, launched in musical comedy and light opera for another five years of training. Five years ago he came under the management of H. E. Johnston, the impresario who directs the concert activities of Gigli, Tetrazzini, and other famous operatic and concert stars. Under this management he quickly became widely recognized in the north and east as the foremost of American concert tenors and last season sang 60 concerts in the east.

Mr. Ryman's concert for the U. D. C. tonight will be his first southern appearance since he scored a memorable triumph as the singer on the opening day of the National Federation of Music clubs convention in Asheville, N. C., in 1923.

Seat sale for the concert will be open in the city auditorium all day today until 5 o'clock after which it will be removed to the city auditorium. Special student rates of 50 cents each have been granted by Mrs. John A. Perdue, president of the U. D. C. chapter, to enable attendance of school and college students.

GUARD OFFICERS TO MEET AT NOON AT ANSLEY HOTEL

Today's regular luncheon meeting of officers of the 122nd infantry is expected to be featured by a round-table discussion of spring training plans and preliminary work in connection with the annual encampment on Pikes Island.

The luncheon will be held in the rainbow room of Ansley hotel and will be presided over by Colonel Charles H. Cox. In addition to officers of the regiment, a number of visitors are expected including officers of the corps area and others.

TEXAS FARMER FINDS TREASURE BURIED IN FIELD

El Paso, Texas, March 30.—(P) While digging mesquite roots for wood on a land grant seven miles east of here yesterday, Roberto Molino, a poor farmer, unearthed a $5 gold piece. Calling his sons, they continued the search and unearthed two more coins. Then Molino got a team and a plough and began digging in earnest. A decayed handbag was found buried a foot underground. Molino claimed it contained $200 in gold. His neighbor said it held a small fortune. Most of the coins were dated 1850.

Facts about Atlanta

Mr. Asa Candler had spent his boyhood in the hills of North Georgia. He wanted to find a place where he might delight to live and at the same time develop a profitable business. He came to Atlanta. He found the answer to his first question. He helped to make the answer for his second question. Today, Mr. Candler, as Atlanta's first citizen, says: "Atlanta is a good place to visit—a better place to live."

Mr. B. Mifflin Hood once visited Atlanta. He found it a good place to visit. He then went away. He visited other cities. He returned to Atlanta. A quarter of a century passes. He has built up an institution of international bearing. Mr. Hood joins with his friends in saying: "Atlanta is a good place to visit—a better place to live."

Mr. W. D. Hoffman once visited Atlanta. He saw its rich back country. He felt its genial climate. He met its courageous citizens. His great company wanted a man to come South. He said he would like the appointment. Today, as president of our Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Hoffman is saying: "Atlanta is a good place to visit—a better place to live."

Mr. W. R. C. Smith was in love with the Middle West, where he had been reared. He thought he would visit the South. He stopped off in Atlanta. He felt the urge of its cordial fellowship. He made it his home. The years have passed. Mr. Smith is saying: "Atlanta is a good place to visit—a better place to live."

Colonel Frederic J. Paxon was reared in Philadelphia—the city of brotherhood. He visited Atlanta. He liked it. He visited Atlanta again. He liked it better. He came to Atlanta to make his home. And now Mr. Paxon is saying: "Atlanta is a good place to visit—a better place to live."

Colonel B. L. Bugg was reared in the delightful state of Mississippi. He visited Atlanta. He was never able to get away from its grip. He came back to live. And today Colonel Bugg joins with the thousands who are saying: "Atlanta is a good place to visit—a better place to live."

ATLANTA - A good place to visit A better place to live!

WHEN REDUCED to the final equation, every city must give answer to this question: Do the people delight to live here? This question may be evaded in the first years of settlement—in the pioneering days, but when the steady gait of everyday living is reached, there must be something beyond profitable business, something beyond accessibility to markets, something beyond material inducements to cause people to wish to live in a community. For, it is the home life, the leisure hours, the off time, that makes demands beyond the conditions which determine the success or failure of business.

Atlanta has no fear of this question. Atlanta welcomes the frank inquiry of the home seeker for a place where children may grow into useful manhood and womanhood. Atlanta invites the father and mother who would raise a roof beneath which the family is to dwell. Atlanta believes in the home as the unit of all progress. Contented citizens is the highest purpose of Atlanta.

Visitors are urged to put the test—to ask of those who dwell here if they find it a good place to live. All the fancied glory of the distant climes is to be seen in the happy home life of Atlanta's contented citizenry. Good schools, playgrounds, parks, wholesome amusements, hospitable churches, lovely gardens, growing trees, singing birds—these combine to make the home life of Atlantans happy. Such factors in a community must be provided by far-seeing leadership. Atlanta has gladly paid the price. Far beyond the demands of the quarter of a million souls in Atlanta is the provision for the homes yet to be. Good water, ample housing, more schools, wider streets, more parks—all these are now in the thought and purpose of Atlanta's zealous leaders.

Atlanta is a city where friendship dwells, where God is real, where love and unity find their natural growth. Here childhood is revered, and old age is accounted as a glory to be attained by right living. Atlanta is a city

*"Whose strength not brick, nor stone, nor wood
But Justice, Love and Brotherhood."*

To such a city the home seeker is invited. There is yet room for all who would find a place in which to truly live. Welcome is cordial for all who will join in this desire to establish here the home of contented, happy, achieving Americans.

Every Atlantan KNOWS what every newcomer soon finds out—that Atlanta is a good place to visit, but it is really a better place to LIVE.

New York, March 30.—(AP)—A further advance in the cotton market today met considerable realizing, but reports of continued unfavorable weather in the south had a sustaining influence and offerings were absorbed on comparative moderate reactions.

After selling up to 18.64 July reacted to 18.49 and closed at 18.56, the general market closed steadily at net advances of 8 to 16 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 9 to 14 points on a continuance of the recent buying movement which found additional stimulation in relatively firm Liverpool cables and another unfavorable weather map. Not only further covering, but trade and commission-house buying carried prices up to 18.64 for May and 18.62 for October, or about 17 to 21 points net higher on the general list.

At these figures the market showed advances of about 50 to 87 points above the low prices at the beginning of this month, which attracted realizing and promoted a reactionary sentiment. Offerings increased and prices eased off 10 to 15 points from the best during midday. May selling down to 18.93 and October to 17.82.

Except for profit taking, however, foreign buyers were comparatively light while early afternoon weather advices from the south showed no improvement and prices steadied up again in late trading.

Buying probably was promoted by expectations of further rains and low temperatures in the south or the prospect for an unfavorable weekly review from the weather bureau tomorrow.

May closed at 19.01 and October at 17.90 or some 8 or 10 points up from the lowest.

Private cables sent the advance in Liverpool was due to good trade selling and continental buying of new crops and also reported an improved cotton inquiry in India. The market closed at 22.22, making 6,521,640 so far this season. Port receipts, 31,412. United States port stocks, 1,195,504.

MARKET ACTIVE AT NEW ORLEANS.

New Orleans, March 30.—(AP)—The cotton market was moderately active today, particularly at the start. Unfavorable weather conditions dominated the market, the trend of prices being generally upward. The market was active and the weather map showed rain over practically the entire belt with snow extending as far south as Alabama, Texas, in the western belt with freezing weather in the northwest.

As a result of the fears aroused for the start of the new crop, prices which opened 7 to 12 points up, advanced to levels 16 to 21 points above yesterday's close during the morning. Lack of support, due it was claimed, to wire trouble shutting off communication with the interior and a fair amount of realizing during the afternoon caused the loss of nearly all the early gain, but there was a slight rally at the end and the close showed gains of 10 to 15 points from the best during midday. May selling down to 18.93 and October to 17.82.

The Day in Finance

By R. L. BARNUM

New York, March 30.—(AP)—Another day of selling orders, carrying over today's current market, leaving scores of issues to new low levels for the year. The break, like that on the "big board," followed a brisk opening rally, which was followed by the strength and activity of the oil and baking shares. Trading was in unusually heavy volume, total sales exceeding 600,000 shares.

Unpronounced business developed in several oil shares with some of the selling undoubtedly inspired by the publication of a private report showing a large increase in crude oil production last week. Humble Oil broke over 4 points to 52, and Prairie Oil & Gas 3 3/8 to 49, both new low records for the year. The market was a low of 1 to nearly 3 points took place in Anglo-American Oil, Standard Oil of California and Indiana, Vacuum, American Petroleum, Carbide, Standard and Reiter Foster. Tidewater Associated (new common) fell 3 1/2 points to a new low at 21 1/4.

Although sales of electrical and refrigeration apparatus are reported to be breaking all records, fresh weakness developed in those stocks and carried most of them to new low levels for the year. General Electric broke 5 points to 15 1/8, and Electrical Refrigeration dropped over 4 points to 52 3/4. Ford Motors of Canada fell 5 points to 100 1/4, and General Motors of the U. S. fell 1 point to 100 1/4.

At the start first trades showed gains of 10 to 12 points and after a slight reaction of 3 to 5 points the market was again active, reaching the highest of the morning May traded at 18.42, July at 18.06 and October at 17.43, or 20 to 21 points above the close of yesterday.

The market was the lowest of the day during the afternoon under pressure of realizing which encountered but indifferent support. May traded down to 18.93 and October to 17.82, or 14 to 18 points down from the highs. The close was a little up from the lowest.

Exports for the day totaled 21,235 bales.

Second Son Born to Chaplin; Young Mother Wanted Girl

CHARLIE, JR., SEES LITTLE BROTHER

17-year-old wife of Charles Spencer Chaplin, motion picture comedian, gave birth to a son here Tuesday. It is the second child born to the Chaplins.

Shortly after the child's birth, the first boy, Charlie, Jr., who was born last June, was brought to see his brother by the Chaplin nurse.

"We have two boys now," Mrs. Chaplin smiled. "We were wishing that our new child would be a girl, and we are tremendously happy, nevertheless."

The young mother was concerned about a name for the boy.
